

Lehman Signs Measure Increasing Penalty For Wild Vehicle Slayings

Five-Year Term and $1,000 Fine Includes Vehicle of Any Kind; Bill in Line with State Safety Campaign.

BRIDGES VETOED

Bill Designed to Reimburse Certain Towns for Bridges Killed by Governor.

Albany, N. Y., May 28 (AP)—Imprisonment not to exceed five years or a fine of not more than $1,000, or both, was made the penalty for driving a vehicle of any kind "in reckless or culpably negligent manner, whereby a human being is killed," under a bill signed today by Governor Lehman.

The law, sponsored by Senator Edwin E. Miller, Schenectady Republican, was in line with a campaign among state officials to reduce the toll of traffic accidents and promote safe driving.

The governor also signed a bill extending to July 1, 1937, the prohibition of the sale of guaranteed mortgage certificates. In a memorandum accompanying his signature, the executive said he was signing it "since the protection it gives is absolutely essential."

"At the same time," he said, "I am much disappointed that the more comprehensive features recommended by me were not adopted by the legislature."

Remarking that the law signed today "falls to include agreements to refund or re-purchase bonds and notes secured by mortgages upon real property," Governor Lehman said that "such a bill was passed in the Senate, but regrettably, in my opinion, was not approved by the Assembly."

Another mortgage measure, designed to exempt the state mortgage commission or corporations controlled by it or trustees under a reorganization plan from filing fees was vetoed without comment.

Among other bills signed by the governor was one to sign New York state's presidential electoral machinery with the Norris "lame duck" amendment to the Federal Constitution, under which the President and Congress elected in November take office the next January 20 and January 6, respectively.

It provides that the electoral college shall convene on the first Monday after the second Wednesday in December following their election. Instead of the second Monday in January, to canvas and certify the votes cast for President and Vice President in New York state.

Laws signed by the executive today brought to 737 the number enacted by the 1936 legislature.

Bridge Bill Vetoed

Governor Lehman vetoed today a bill designed to reimburse certain towns of the second class for bridges, other than wooden bridges, constructed at town expense on state highways.

The governor said he was "indeed amazed that the legislature should have agreed to pass this bill in view of the need to keep state expenditures at the lowest possible figure," and noted that the legislature "made no appropriation and no provision for the needed revenues."

He said the comptroller estimated the bill would involve 93 towns and communities.

"It would commit the state to the reimbursing of these towns for the next 30 years at the rate of one-fourteenth of the cost of those bridges per year."

He also disapproved:

A measure to empower the Supreme Court to remove a guardian ad litem, or special guardian, and appoint a successor, without specifying cause.

A bill that would have applied only to Tonawanda, empowering its common council to appropriate funds for athletic medals and prizes.

A measure which would have permitted taxation for school purposes of state-owned lands in Westchester and Putnam counties.

Coronation of Edward To Be Held May 12, 1937

London, May 28 (AP)—Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin today set May 12, 1937, as the day on which King Edward VIII will be formally invested with the authority of the British throne in a centuries-old coronation ceremony.

The announcement was made in a special issue of the official gazette. The date will be officially proclaimed at colorful ceremonies in the center of London tomorrow.

Active preparations will begin at once for the vast array of pageantry and ceremonial that will mark the event, which will reach its climax in Westminster Abbey when the archbishop of Canterbury places the famous jeweled crown upon the king's head.

For London the ceremony will mean influx of several hundred thousands of visitors from all parts of the world. It is expected ten ruling kings and queens, in full regalia, together with 150 or more Indian princes in picturesque costume, will be the nation's guests.

Every dominion and colony will have its envoys present. Every foreign country will be represented.

A grand naval review at Spithead probably will follow the coronation. Other special military reviews will be held.

Broadway Property Owners File Estimate Of Costs Wednesday

Last evening 21 of the 24 property owners in the Broadway crossing elimination area filed estimates of damages to their property, provided the alternative plan of depressing Broadway under the railroad tracks and widening the street in that area by taking from 10 to 15 feet from the fronts of the properties on both sides of the street, is adopted. The estimates were filed with J. F. O'Marra, appraiser and claim agent of the State Department of Public Works, at a conference held in the city hall.

Recently the property owners in the elimination area were asked to file an estimate of their damage with Mr. O'Marra, but when he was here recently no estimates were ready. He then announced he would be here Wednesday evening to receive the estimates.

Edward T. McGill and Everett Treadwell, who did not submit estimates, announced they would send them to Albany so that they would be received by Monday. Representatives of the Kingston Trust Company stated the figure on the damage to the branch would be ready today.

Some of the property owners stated they planned to submit estimates on another plan which would call for underpassing the crossing on one side of the street only.

G. R. Bernard, assistant to Mr. O'Marra, was also present at the conference as was Harry L. Hommedieu, local land and tax agent of the New York Central Railroad.

Elmendorf on Civil Service and Hogeboom On the Water Board

Mayor Heiselman announced today that he had appointed Lester C. Elmendorf as a member of the Municipal Civil Service Commission, and Nicholas Hogeboom as a member of the Board of Water Commissioners. Their terms begin June 1. Commissioner Hogeboom is a retired state road contractor, and served extensively for several years on the local E.R.R.

Commissioner Elmendorf is with the Kingston Coal Company, and for years has been an active member of Kingston Post of the American Legion, of which he is a past commander.

Mr. St. John, whose term as civil service commissioner expires the first of June, had written Mayor Heiselman that he did not care to be re-appointed, owing to pressing business reasons. He had served the city for the past six years as a member of the civil service board.

Memorial Day will be appropriately observed on Saturday and Sunday in Kingston this year. Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock the annual Memorial Day parade will be held on Broadway, and Sunday evening patriotic exercises will be held at 8 o'clock in the Municipal Auditorium with the patriotic address delivered by Judge F. Walter Bliss, associate justice of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court.

A number of the city churches which hold Sunday evening services will omit them that evening so that the members of the congregations can attend the services in the Auditorium. There will be an appropriate musical program by the local WPA orchestra.

Judge Bliss is well known in Kingston where he has presided over a number of terms of Supreme Court at the court house. He is widely known as an orator and will have a message well worth hearing. This service will be Sunday evening in the Auditorium.

Saturday morning the annual parade will be held with Major O. R. Hiltbrant as grand marshal. The parade will start at Broadway and Delaware avenue.

Strikes Reach Over 20 States as Fresh Trouble Offsets Labor Pacts

100 Private Detectives Receive Hostile Greeting at Lion Remington Rand Plant; 1,000 Strikers Parade at Syracuse.

BARBERS IDLE

Little Headway in New York on Barbers' Troubles; Cargoes Tied up at Milwaukee.

(By the Associated Press)

Strikes in industry and agriculture were in progress in 20 states today, marked by scattered disorder.

Agreements reached in some states were offset by fresh troubles elsewhere. The number of workers affected was estimated by labor leaders at more than 46,000.

Illon, N. Y., police said 100 uniformed private detectives who had been sent to guard the Remington Rand plant had been recalled by company officials who said it would reopen today.

The guards were described by police as having received a "hostile greeting" when they walked through the downtown streets and as having difficulty finding taxicab operators and bus drivers to take them from the town.

Three men were arrested on a charge of assaulting a worker at the plant which was surrounded by 1,000 pickets.

Dallas, Tex., police patrolled taxi company offices after two passengers had been jerked from taxis by sympathizers with 600 striking cab drivers. All movement of cars stopped.

At Providence, R. I., the Rochambeau Worsted Company was closed after 250 workers voted to strike because, they said, a woman employee had been discharged because her machine broke down.

A strike by members of the International Longshoremen's Union at Milwaukee, Wis., held up the handling of cargoes on two package freighters. Union leaders said there were 400 strikers.

A major settlement was reached at Bedford, Ind., where a committee of operators and workmen announced the end of the strike of crane operators in the Bedford-Bloomington limestone district which had thrown 2,500 men out of work since May 8. Committee members said the operators would go back to work at their old wage scale.

Little headway had been made toward settlement of the barber's strike in New York, in which union officials said 7,500 were participating. In the strikes of 3,000 Arkansas tenant farmers, 1,000 celery field workers in California, and 5,500 employees of the Wheeling Steel Corporation at Portsmouth, Ohio.

Other states affected by disputes included Illinois, Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, Vermont, Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota, Oregon, Washington, Minnesota, Pennsylvania.

Quiet March

Syracuse, N. Y., May 28 (AP)—One thousand striking Remington Rand employees marched quietly around the company's Syracuse plant today, refusing to return to work when the factory was reopened after a shut-down because of labor troubles.

Eighty uniformed officers under the command of Capt. Irving E. Blanchard patrolled the area, carrying long night sticks.

There was no disorder. Only a few office workers entered the plant. Picket lines formed an hour before opening time. Capt. Blanchard estimated that one thousand were in line. The strikers walked in twos and threes, circling the plant steadily. Police on motorcycles and on horseback kept pace with the group.

Taxicabs rolled up to the plant's main entrance bearing thirty men from a private detective agency. They were under the direction of Benjamin Hall. He said they were hired to "prevent sabotage."

The state demanded death in the electric chair for the prisoner, who it contended, "is no more insane than any of us."

Other alternatives under the judge's charge would have been a verdict of not guilty or not guilty by reason of insanity. The latter possibility, believed to have been dropped by the jury, apparently caused the lengthy deliberation.

The accused man had sat through-out the trial, showing little emotion beyond occasional frowning of the brows.

Without apparent interest, Florence heard Lewis Titterton, a broad-casting company executive and husband of the slain fiction writer, testify that when he returned home last Good Friday "I saw my wife's body in our bathtub."

A 33-inch cord similar to that used in the upholstery shop where he worked was found with the body and helped find him. He was arrested 10 days later.

Judge Nott said he would sentence Florence to June 5. He turned the case over to the jury.

"You need never have any more peace of mind," he said "if you were not only justified but absolutely necessary under the evidence. It is a shocking crime and you have done a public service."

Direct Relief Demand Opens Senate Debate on WPA Fund In 2-Billion Deficiency Act Possible Moves for New Florida Ship Canal Survey and Passamaquoddy Project in Way of Vote Friday.

TAX VOTE FRIDAY

Senate Tax Committee Postpones Vote on Whether to Approve Its Own Tax Bill.

Washington, May 28 (AP)—A Republican demand that more costly work relief be abandoned in favor of direct relief for the unemployed opened Senate debate today on the administration bill carrying $1,425,000,000 for continuing the Works Progress program.

Senator Hale, of Maine, opened his party's attack on the $2,369,000,000 deficiency bill as Democratic leaders pushed everything else aside in an effort to rush the measure to a final vote by tomorrow.

Hale contended the spending of more than $3,000,000,000 a year by the New Deal had proved the theory of "priming the pump" was a failure. He called for curtailment of expenditure, and an effort to speed up private industry in an effort to bring back prosperity.

Hale's speech was short. As soon as he finished the Senate began voting on committee amendments, sweeping toward the bigger issues in the measure.

Nothing apparently stood in the way of quick action on the long disputed $2,369,000,000 measure with the possible exception of a move to add an amendment to authorize new surveys of the Florida ship canal and the Passamaquoddy tide harnessing project in Maine.

Democratic chiefs had not decided whether to offer this proposal as an amendment or press for separate action. In view of Republican threats that it would bring prolonged debate.

Tax Postponement

With administration forces attempting to rally support behind higher taxes on undistributed corporate earnings, the senate finance committee today postponed at least until tomorrow a crucial vote on whether to approve the tax bill which it already has framed.

The treasury submitted estimates on four new tax plans which are in line with the latest corporate tax system advocated by the president, but no action was taken on any.

The committee passed up its usual afternoon session to permit Democratic members to confer again. They already had held one parley before the full committee met for its morning session.

Instead of voting on a motion, still pending by Senator George (D-Ga.), a acceptance of the committee's own bill, members discussed the latest treasury estimates and minor, technical changes in their bill.

Responsible for Delay

One senator, a leader in the battle against the higher undistributed profits taxes sought by President Roosevelt intimated that delay was occasioned by administration senators who repeatedly asked for estimates on new corporate tax schemes.

Acting Chairman King (D-Utah) said he thought the committee might report out a bill tomorrow, but he had said the same thing yesterday with reference to the bill.

As for the feud today's meeting, investigating committee and Dr. F. E. Townsend, old age pension leader, the capital expected a new climax today. The committee sought quick action on its resolution asking that Dr. Townsend be cited for contempt for walking out on the committee and that he be turned over to a federal court for trial.

Speaker Byrnes was among those pressing for fast action by the House, while the Townsend shop continued to issue denunciations of the committee.

The treasury was busy preparing today for a sizable financial operation. It plans to offer $2,000,000,000 in securities Monday, of which about half will be used to retire maturing obligations. The rest will, Michigan in 31 minutes, and that be new cash in most current needs, within 24 hours they could have their entire membership over the country under arms. The treasury said.

If all of the Black Legion units organized since military lines, and at full strength, McCrea said the Black Legion had 125,000 members in Michigan.

McCrea said he had received letters from networks in 15 or 16 states, among them Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, Illinois and Colorado, warning of acts of intimidation or violence to the rebel and hooded order.

Fiorenza Convicted of Murder, First Degree, In Titterton Slaying

New York, May 28 (AP)—John Fiorenza was convicted today of murder in the first degree in the bathtub slaying of Mrs. Nancy Evans Titterton. The jury deliberated more than 18 hours.

The conviction carries the death penalty.

Mrs. Titterton, wife of a radio executive, was strangled and attacked in her Beekman Place apartment on Good Friday, April 10.

Florence, 24, an upholsterer's helper, was accused of calling at the apartment during the morning, on the pretense of inquiring about a love seat.

The state charged—and the police produced at the trial a confession he signed—that he forced his attentions on Mrs. Titterton, threw her on a bed, strangled her and then dumped her body in a bathtub.

Florence went on trial in general sessions court before Judge Charles C. Nott, Jr., and a jury a week ago last Monday.

His attorney, Henry Klauber, contended Florence was insane and hence not responsible for his acts, and in summing up his case argued the state of New York was morally guilty for the crime, since Florence had been released from Elmira reformatory although a state psychiatrist had called him potentially insane.

The state demanded death in the electric chair for the prisoner, who it contended, "is no more insane than any of us."

Other alternatives under the judge's charge would have been a verdict of not guilty or not guilty by reason of insanity. The latter possibility, believed to have been dropped by the jury, apparently caused the lengthy deliberation.

Harry Waterman, 44, of Shandaken, who was arrested by State Trooper Ray Dunn for driving while intoxicated, was fined $50 Wednesday night by Justice of the Peace Thorne Townsend. Waterman was arrested on complaint of people residing about a half mile above Rhinecliff.

Sale for Blind To Be Held Tuesday

The Kingston sale for the blind opens Tuesday, June 2, at 2 to 5:30 p. m. at 304 Wall street. The sale is under the direction of Mrs. Virgil B. Van Wagoner, general chairman, with Mrs. Harry Harrison, treasurer, and various church committees serving at given periods. All are asked to give this worthy cause their full support.

One of the main industries of the blind workers is the hemming of towels. This is done by blind girls operating power driven sewing machines. Last year, 58,000 of these towels were hemmed in the shop at Albany, N. Y. The imported Irish linen dish and glass towels are still big sellers. Turkish towels are presented in a large price range and many new styles, such as the stagecoach design, small rainbow, and large white towels for men. In cotton toweling can be found the absorbent kitchen and the attractive hand towels.

Another article which is meeting with big success is the large durable rubber mat which is being produced as a reclamation project. These mats are made in three sizes and are sanitary and long lasting.

The Lutheran Church of the Redeemer is in charge for the opening period of the sale on Tuesday. Miss Julia E. Walter is chairman, assisted by the following committee: Mrs. Clarence Rowland, Mrs. J. S. Rosa, Mrs. Anton Berelson, Mrs. George Wilson, Mrs. Ed Luedtke, Mrs. Ed Geschwinder, Mrs. Al Messinger, Mrs. J. J. Messinger, Elsie Drautz, Mrs. Alton Bruce, Mrs. Kathryn Tremper, Mrs. Frank Southard, Mrs. A. Hummel.

More Enlistments For U. S. Army Service

Notice has been given the local recruiting officer at the court house that a few more enlistments will be accepted in various branches of the U. S. Army from the Albany district of the Second Corps Area which includes Kingston and vicinity. In order to comply with the regulations quick action must be taken by any young man who desires to enlist for the Panama Canal Zone service. This post is particularly desirable and there are but a few vacancies.

Effective May 26 the following enlistments for the Panama service are authorized: Infantry 5, Field Artillery 10, Coast Artillery 5, Engineers 3, Medical Corps 1, a total of 27 enlistments. Only men who are at least 5 feet 10 inches tall are desired for Field Artillery.

In addition to the above openings there will be enlisted ten men for the Quartermaster Corps with any of the following qualifications: General clerk, baker, carpenter, plumber, painter, electrician, warehouseman, truck drivers, typists, auto mechanic or chauffeur. These assignments are for Panama Canal Zone service.

Men who are enlisted must hurry in order to be qualified for service by July 3 when the Transport Republic will sail. All recruits who are accepted will be forwarded to the Overseas Recruit Depot at Fort Slocum, N. Y., from where they will board the transport.

It is said that French wines will cost the American consumer less under the new trade agreement which Secretary Hull has completed. And it is our humble opinion that a great deal of them are worth less.

Quintuplets Hold Second Anniversary Minus Their Parents

Callender, Ont., May 28 (AP)—The Dionne quintuplets came to their second birthday anniversary today with only a brief celebration to be held tonight, and that apparently without their parents.

Except for a half hour before the radio tonight, during which the program directors hoped the five famous girls would coo and tap at the proper moment for an international hookup, there was no deviation from the routine of the Dafoe Hospital.

The parents of the children, Oliva and Elzire Dionne, failed to attend last year, on the first such occasion, and it was reported the guardians did not extend an invitation to them for this year's observance. The guardians themselves were not available immediately for confirmation of this report.

Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, the quiet, little "country doctor," said the children were in better health than ever today.

Although they have not quite reached the high weight prescribed for normal single-born two-year-olds, the doctor said, they are so near them that only a quibbler would fuss about the difference.

The Dionne youngsters now average 23.8 pounds in weight, compared to the 26 pounds the normal baby weighs at two years. Their average height is only an inch less than the normal height of 32.2 inches.

In other words, the tiny infants who were given little chance to live more than a few hours after their birth May 28, 1934, have almost caught up to the "book babies" who have every physical advantage. But Dr. Dafoe is keeping them on a diet intended to build muscle rather than fat.

Yvonne, Annette, Cecile, Emilie and Marie are to perform for the radio tonight from 5:30 to 6:00 p. m. (EST) but only those not familiar with the quintuplets counted on them to act exactly as program directors planned. Those who had seen them toss toys around their nursery and knock over chairs during a movie scene knew anything might happen.

Nurse Jacqueline Noel, who has taught the children a form of dancing and a humming that might be called singing, promised to play the piano in the nursery and to lead the quintuplets in a song and a step or two.

Frank Carpino Held For the Grand Jury

Willow Street Youth Charged With Third Degree Arson — Father Chastised Son By Knocking Him Down—Other Cases in Police Court.

Frank Carpino, 16, of Willow street, was held to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of arson in the third degree, following a hearing in police court this morning before Judge Culliton. The youth is charged with being one of the men who set fire to the vacant house at 34 Willow street, owned by the Hutton Company, recently.

Carpino was represented at the hearing by Attorney Frank Campochiaro, while Attorney Dorr Monroe appeared for the district attorney's office.

George Every of Murphy street, was arrested last evening by his wife who charged her husband with assault in the third degree in knocking down their son, Frederick. Every told Judge Culliton that the boy had been "sassy and put up his fists to me when I asked him to do something." The father said that when the son put up his fists to him he had landed a blow on the boy's jaw with his fist, knocking the boy down. "That is no way to chastise your son," commented Judge Culliton imposing a sentence of 30 days in jail. The judge, however, suspended the serving of the jail sentence.

Thomas P. Shea of Springfield, Mass., created a disturbance in the S & C Lunch on East Strand last night, and was arrested. "I was a little under the weather," explained Shea to Judge Culliton who sentenced him to five days in jail.

John M. Stephens and Alton Purcell arrested for public intoxication, were fined $3 each.

Nicholas A. Nekos, 20, of 321 Washington avenue and Dr. Francis J. Dudenhausen of St. Remy, arrested each other shortly after 11 o'clock last night when their cars collided on Broadway near St. James street. Each charged the other with reckless driving. This morning Nekos was represented by Attorney Herman Katz, while Assemblyman J. Edward Conway appeared for Dr. Dudenhausen. The hearing in both cases was adjourned to June 11.

Mildred Gunzelmann of Broadway was fined $2 for failing to observe a full stop sign at Manor and Albany avenues.

T. J. Hoben Badly Injured in a Fall

Timothy J. Hoben of 200 Downs street, a lineman employed by the New York Telephone Company, is confined to the Kingston Hospital with injuries in a fall sustained from a telephone pole about 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Today he was reported as resting as comfortably as could be expected.

Mr. Hoben was descending a telephone pole on the Saugerties-Woodstock road when one of his spurs broke, throwing him off balance and he fell to the ground below.

Fellow workers picked him up and rushed him to the hospital where it was stated that while he was badly hurt he was not critically injured. X-ray pictures are to be taken to determine the extent of his injuries as it was thought he had fractured the pelvis bone in his fall.

KINGSTON, N. Y., MAY 28, 1936.

NEEDED—A MEETING PLACE.

Now that the city and county laboratory will soon be moved to new quarters next to the Kingston Hospital, the problem of what to do with the rooms now occupied by the laboratory arises. As a suggestion, what better use could it be put to than the making of a first-class rest room and meeting place for local and out of town shoppers?

Kingston lacks such a place, where county residents may meet prior or after shopping, where husbands may wait for wives or the reverse, and where persons from different parts of the city and county may meet to shop together.

The present city laboratory rooms are almost ideally located for such a rest room and meeting place, being near the business center and large enough to accommodate anticipated visitors. Such an establishment should not be expensive, yet with a small amount of money a very attractive place could be arranged.

A meeting place and rest room would make the city a more desirable place for our neighboring visitors and we believe be a boon to the merchants. Probably some arrangement between county and city could be worked out so that the initial expense and small additional upkeep could be divided. Both city and county residents would benefit from such a project and probably both would be willing to pay the small amount necessary to have such a place established.

If the present city laboratory could not be used for this purpose, perhaps there is some other available building which might be converted into a meeting place and rest room.
 Other cities have such establishments and they have proved to be a fine thing. Kingston can and should have such an addition as a modern city.

UNWISE TALK ABOUT CANADA

Representative William I. Sivovich of New York has a curious remedy for unemployment in the United States. The other day he introduced in Congress a resolution calling for a special committee to investigate the "practicability" of a union between Canada and the United States.
 Such a union, he believes, "would open new areas for colonization, form the greatest English speaking nation in the world and solve the long-enduring problem of the unemployment of labor."

The proposal, at this stage in the history of the two countries, shows ignorance of the temperament of each of them. Canada is a self-governing democracy quite as much as the United States. Its ties with the British Empire are chiefly the strong, spiritual bonds of loyalty and kinship. Its ties with the United States are those of friendship, language, culture and common business interests. Cooperation and good will should increase between the two nations, with mutual advantages, but union is utterly unnecessary, and careless talk of it may be harmful.
 Canadian-American amity and the long, unfortified border and easy visiting back and forth, afford a valuable example to the Old World of intelligent nations living and working side by side in peace.

KNOW WHERE THEY STAND

The Socialists, too, seem to have their right and left wings, their conservative and radical, their Bourgeois and Tories. To citizens who think of all Socialists as Bolsheviks, it was astonishing to see the Old Guard pull away from the "militant" at their national convention the other day, and walk out. The seceding fundamentalists would be New Yorkers, too!

At the same time the "militant" dominated by Norman Thomas, instead of being a truck whatever with the Democratic Party, which they see as a rather stuffy capitalist outfit, occupying the middle of the road to their right. Are they themselves, then, "democratic radicals"?

By no means, they declare. For neither will they have any truck with the Communists on their left, whom they consider an irresponsible
 lot of destroyers.

It is to be hoped that the two big parties will outline their beliefs and proposals so definitely. Altogether, we may get more political light than usual this year from the various segments of the political spectrum.
 And as things clarify, it should be more possible than ordinarily for any clear-headed citizen to figure out where he belongs.

EATING OLIVES

Scanning a "question-and-answer" column, for the human interest invariably found there, we come upon this old-timer: "Should olives be eaten with the fingers or a fork?"
 The answer is, "With the fingers".
 And an answer like that is always reassuring. It indicates that there is still some naturalness left in a world so super-civilized (in superficial ways) that it insists on doing countless things in an unnatural and inefficient way. Table service and etiquette, on the whole are not practical and sensible. Eating has become a conventional art, interposing as many artificialities and impediments as possible between a man's food and his stomach. Wherefore it's a relief to know that something which goes into the mouth can actually be handled with the bare fingers, without incurring social ostracism.

Just one little question, though, before we quit. Does the rule hold when the olive is at the bottom of a cocktail glass? In such a case is the olive eaten or drunk? We wouldn't know.

That Body of Yours

DIARRHOEA IN CHILDREN

When the cool weather passes away the heat of the sun becomes stronger and many mothers are naturally worried about the diarrhoea which so often affects children at this time.

Where children's clinics are at hand little changes in the food intake and the proper care of milk seem to be quite effective in preventing this ailment which formerly carried off hundreds of children every year.

Naturally any simple treatment that is effective and costs very little is gladly welcomed. And when an effective remedy for diarrhoea has been found by people themselves, physicians are usually not slow in investigating it. Thus when the peasants of Germany found that a diet of raw apples would cure diarrhoea the University of Heidelberg introduced it into their clinic.

Dr. M. Sussmann, Berlin, advises the use of one large apple every two hours, giving seven or eight in one day. The ripe mellow apples are peeled, cored, and grated preferably on a glass grater.

Dr. W. Hill McCaslin in Southern Medical Journal advises from 3 to 12 medium-sized apples be fed daily depending on the age of the child. For infants, under one year of age, the apple pulp is prepared as a "soup", with the addition of a cup of water containing a half teaspoonful of salt and a pint of weak tea to each large or two small apples.

The apple diet is given for two days with no other food except water or very weak tea, which is forced.
 If vomiting is present, the apple pulp is given in smaller quantities and more often.

The stools or bowel emptyings are usually cut down to one or two on the second day of the apple diet.
 The apple pulp passes through the intestines apparently unchanged.

Not only is the diarrhoea stopped but the symptoms usually present disappear.
 After the two days following the apple diet, a diet rich in proteins (meat, eggs, cereals) and in milk and vegetables is given for two days. After two days of this diet the child is allowed back on its regular diet.

Dr. McCaslin's patients were from months to 6 years of age.
 This simple method of curing diarrhoea in children, whether due to "sweeping" out poisons due to spoiled or infected food, or to overcoming these poisons is not definitely known, but in any case its ability to cure is now definitely proved.

Gypsy Weather

BY MARGARET DELL HONISTON

SYNOPSIS: In an effort to help his sister-in-law Hope, Dirk Joris has asked her father to come to her from 21 Paso. He arrives, makes cryptic remarks about Hope's beliefs, takes the wrong path, and finally consents to see her. There is a deep mystery in Hope's life. Dirk knows. Her sudden marriage to Rupert Joris, the circumstances of her first meeting with Dirk, her strange trips with someone named Pashan over a speakeasy in New York all point to it.

Chapter 32

CURIOUS VISIT

DEVINE laid the hat and coat he had picked up on the table again.
 Dirk went upstairs, where he found Mary in the hall. Mary said that Mrs. Joris was awake.

Dirk assured her that Mrs. Joris must be prepared.

"Say to her, 'Your father, the Rev.
 Devine, is here.' Just that. Then if she wants to see him, he may go in.
 Tell her that I telegraphed him. Not because she is terribly ill, but because I thought it would do her good to have him here. You see, if it won't do her good, if she doesn't want to see him, there'll be no sense in his going in."

Mary looked so mystified at Dirk's insistence on this tautology (Mrs.
 Joris wasn't so ill that she needed to be reminded who her father was!) that Dirk added:

"Perhaps I'd better tell her, myself."

"Oh, no, sir!" said Mary.

Of course she wouldn't tell Mister Dirk, but Mrs. Joris had asked that very afternoon that he be kept out of her room.

She repeated the words to Hope a moment later. Hope lay a passive atom in the great bed. The shadows beneath her drooping eyes were blue as bruises. The eyes flew open, dark, incredulous.

"Who?"

"Your father, Ma'am. The Rev.
 Silas Devine."

Hope sat up.

"Dirk did this," she whispered.

"He telegraphed."

"Mister Dirk wired him that you were ill."

Hope, sitting up in bed, appeared to be thinking, thinking fast.

"I'll see him," she said. "Please say to Mister Dirk that I'll be glad to see him. Glad. Do you understand?"

"I do, Ma'am."

They seemed very careful about the message they sent each other.

"My clothes," said Hope. "Get me my clothes."

She was out of bed, standing white, looking a little dizzy.

Mary, who had not anticipated that sudden move, drew her back, pressed the covers about her.

"But Ma'am, your own father! He will come in here. He will come to you."

"Alone!" breathed Hope. "He must come in quite alone, and remain in here, alone. No one else. No one. See that Dirk understands that.
 And that I'm glad to see him. How does he seem?" with a little catch of the breath. "I mean... does he seem kind? Merciful?"

"I haven't seen him, Ma'am. But I know that everything will be as you would like it. Otherwise, he would not have come. . . . And now . . .
 don't talk any more. Except to him.
 I will brush your hair, and we will put on the bed-jacket with the roses, and all the little lace pillows behind
 you."

There were dozens of these. Hope lay enthroned like a pale queen when Mary stole out to summon the Rev. Devine. Dirk was waiting in the hall.

"How was it?" he asked.

"She's glad, sir. Glad to see him.
 Glad he's come—just as I knew she would be."

Dirk was relieved. Mary added:

"She must see him alone, sir.
 Quite alone."

"Of course."

"And he must be kind, sir. He must be forgiving. She's a little . . .
 nervous about that, sir."

"I've cautioned him," Dirk said.
 "But I'll speak of it again."

THE REV. DEVINE, when cautioned again, repeated that he understood. He came with Dirk upstairs. Mary admitted him to the room, and withdrew.

"He'll fix up the south room, shall I, sir? Mr. Devine may wish to stay the night."

Dirk assented, and Mary prepared the room. She was sleeping in Rupert's room now, occupying a cot that had been placed in the passage between that room and Hope's. The door was closed tonight, but Mary, making ready for bed, could hear faintly the voices of Hope and the visitor.

She would not undress yet, she decided, because she must show the Rev. Devine to his room. She would do, however, what she could, like washing her face and saying her prayers. . . . Poor Mister Rupert . . .
 there was something sad in using his wash-bowl, and not knowing if he would ever come back to it any more! . . .

Mary, having washed her face, had just sat down in Mister Rupert's leather-covered chair beside the lamp when she became aware that the blur of conversation in the next room had become clear, disturbingly clear.

Hope had said something—Mary could not tell what, because she had not been listening—and now the Rev. Devine was replying. His voice sounded as if he had risen, as if he stood beside the outer door which was not far from this door here.

He said:
 "I will not be party to any such thing. What wonder that you are ill? Your cure lies only with yourself."

Again the blurred murmurs—Hope speaking, the Rev. Devine speaking. (Mary could have heard that, too, if her ears hadn't been so poor.) Then an audible parting word from the Rev. Devine:

"You have no right to stay here;
 no right to sacrifice others. I will not be party to it."

A door opened and closed. There was silence.

Or was there? Mary's ears could not be sure. But she was fearful for her charge (the next time she recommended a visit from estranged parents!) and she opened the door beside the cot, and went into Hope's room.

Hope was sitting up in bed, her wide, dilated eyes on the other door.
 "See where he's gone!" she cried to Mary. "See what he's doing! . . .
 Don't let him go to Dirk!"

Mary went out into the hall in time to see the Rev. Devine finish the descent of the stair, take hat and coat from the table near the door, and depart—all very sternly, very quietly.

"He's gone," she said, returning to the room.

HOPE lay back on the pillows with closed eyes. Mary felt the small quick pulse, rubbed the cold hands. Her thoughts were profane.
 She drew the covers about Hope's shoulders, and raised a window to air the room. . . . How would she ever tell Mister Dirk that her prescription had acted like this? . . .
 She didn't. . . .

"There now, it's not worth it. It's not worth 'worrying over.' Mary patted the shoulder underneath the cover.

"Go to sleep, poor lady. It will all be right in the morning. I've seen many a hard father in my day."

Mary wanted to add, "But this is the worst of the lot." Instead, she said, "They all lived to be sorry.
 They did, indeed."

Hope's dark gaze moved up to her face.

"What do you mean? Why do you say he is hard?"

"She don't want even me to know," thought Mary, and answered soothingly:

"His leaving so soon, Ma'am. And I'd got the south room ready for him."

"He had to go," said Hope. "If Dirk asks about it, please say that he . . . had to go. I'm not so . . . very ill. I've had these . . . these illnesses before. I always get well. He knows that. It was nothing to come on for.
 Dirk shouldn't have wired him."

Mary looked away before the searching eyes.

"She's wondering if I heard him."

Thought Mary. Treacherous ears with their half-sleeping nerves!
 Often they woke at just the wrong moment, and captured what was not intended for them.

"I understand, Ma'am. I had just come in my room, and heard him go out. He hadn't been here half an hour, but that was enough." ("It was indeed," thought Mary.)

"I didn't want him to disturb Dirk," added Hope more quietly. "I really feel better . . . now that it's over. Now that I've seen him. I mean."

Mary hoped this was true. She removed the bed-jacket from her patient's shoulders, took away all the little pillows except the big soft one that immediately engulfed the small white face. Her hand moved to the chain of the night-lamp.

"Good night, Ma'am."

Obediently Hope closed her eyes.

Success in Life

The success of life—the only success in the true sense—is in the quality of living day by day, and not exclusively in its achievements, and still live in its achievements of progression.

We can live in aspirations, in good will, in sympathy, in love, and the most limited, narrow, and trying circumstances.—Lillian Whiting.

NEW YORK HOLSTEINS ON NATIONAL HONOR LIST

The Holstein-Friesian Association of America has just published the Honor List of high record Holstein cows for 1935. This list is based on official ten months and yearly tests for butter fat production reported for pure bred Holsteins throughout the United States. Holstein breeders consider it a real distinction to be placed on this list in such strong competition.

New York state ranks second on the Honor List in Honor List points and also second in number of owners. Seventeen New York Holstein breeders are represented on the list, including C. C. Bennett, Homer, The Blount Lumber Co., Laconia; Henry Card, Fredonia; Cornell University, Ithaca; W. J. Hall, Oswego; Homestead Farms, Inc., Stormville; Est. O. U. Kellogg, Cortland; Lincoln Agricultural School, Lincolnville; McLauri Brothers, Portlandville; Morgenthau & Hoese, Hopeville Junction; H. W. Petzold, Newark Valley; W. D. Robens & Son, Poland; Mrs. Josetta Schermerhorn, Hudson; Shawangunk Valley Stock Farm, Walkkill; Elliot Springstead, Cobleskill; Lloyd Taylor, Warwick; and Harry Yates, Orchard Park. The Shawangunk Valley Stock Farm has 13 placings on the list including two firsts, one second and two thirds. In the group of senior three-year-olds tested on three milkings a day (Class B) Colantha Mercedes Jewel Lady placed first with her record of 786.8 lbs. fat and 19,253 lbs. milk for the year. Canary Fobes Ormsby Lass, a junior four-year-old, placed first in her class with 973.2 lbs. fat and 25,283 lbs. milk in Class A. Second place was won by Miss Changeling Mercedes in the senior two-year-old group, Class A, with 628.5 lbs. fat and 16,760 lbs. milk in 305 days.

Helen Olheim at the Community Concert

HELEN OLHEIM

Last evening announcement was made of Albert Spalding, America's great violinist, as the outstanding artist for the Community Concerts that it is hoped will be presented in Kingston another year.

Today's announcement concerns Miss Helen Olheim, one of the season's debutantes at the Metropolitan Opera who has proven herself to be an indispensable member of that company. She was cast for nine opera performances and one Sunday night concert. She has already made good the prediction of General Director Edward Johnson, who has called her "a promising find for the Metropolitan." The New York Times said of her lovely contralto voice, "Of warmth, sympathetic quality, an admirable degree of musicianship, style, poise, a sensitive and expressive musician."

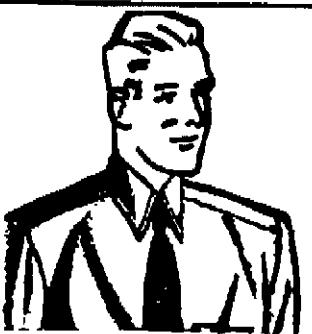

Kingstonians will have a very real musical treat in listening to a concert by this charming singer who also excels as a program maker.

RIFTON LADIES' AID CHANGE MEETING PLACE

Meeting will take place on Wednesday evening, June 3, and all members are urged to attend, since there will be plenty of new business to discuss. At this meeting final plans will be made for the annual strawberry festival to be held the middle of June.

Wyoming Woods Go On Display

Ithaca, N. Y., May 28.—Wyoming county forests go on display Saturday, June 6, as counties in western New York hold a forestry field day, sponsored by the farm bureau and the junior extension boards.

Wyoming county ranks among the first ten counties of the state in the extent and value of its farm woodland area, says Professor J. A. Cope of the state college of agriculture. Logs, basket veneers, posts, fuel-wood, and maple syrup bring thousands of dollars to Wyoming county farmers each year.

"In the last two decades, 2,200 acres of new forests of pine and spruce have been established through the combined efforts of farmers, 4-H Club members, villages, and the county itself."

The morning is devoted to tours of various plantations in the county. Featured in the afternoon program are short talks by S. S. Greene, state coordinator of the soil conservation service; W. G. Howard, director of lands and forests, state conservation department; and Harry Douglas of Arcade.

Contests have been provided for young and old. Students of vocational agriculture and 4-H Club members in western New York compete in a tree identification contest, while adults show their skill with an axe for the unofficial championship of western New York. As a special feature, picked teams from the CCA camps at Machias and Amica compete in log sawing and wood chopping.

A copy of the printed program may be had from the local county agricultural agent.

ZENA

Zena, May 27.—Mr. and Mrs. Orville Oldrich of Gloversville were week-end guests of Mrs. Oldrich's sister, Miss Florence Hill, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Carnright.

son, William, of New Jersey, are spending some time at their summer home here.

Albert Holmuser and the Misses Blanche Long and Edna Holmuser were representatives of Zena at the Ulster County Christian Endeavor Union rally at New Paltz last Friday evening.

Mrs. Knauer has opened her Zena home for the summer.

The play, "A Henpecked Hero," which was presented at the Zena Country Club on Thursday evening, proved quite successful. After the show dancing to the tune of Harold Holmuser's accordion was enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Holmuser, little Emmelle Holmuser and Mont-cena DeWitt called on Henry DeWitt of Leibhardt on Sunday.

Floyd Simmons is busy building a new chicken coop.

Youth District Meets At Albany Today

To evaluate the accomplishments of and to plan developments in the National Youth Administration program for District No. 3 of New York state, members of the local advisory committees and project supervisors from the 10 counties forming the district are meeting in an all day session today in the old Boys' Academy Building, Albany. A. R. Coulson, Superintendent of the Albany Schools and chairman of the N. Y. A. district advisory committee, will preside at the morning and afternoon sessions, at which youth personnel matters will be discussed. Karl D. Haisley, director of N. Y. A.

in upstate New York, will speak at the afternoon session on "Youth Planning and N. Y. A."

The Rev. M. Stephen James, D. D., of the First Dutch Reformed Church will talk on "Youth and the Community," at the luncheon meeting, which will be held in the "Green Room" of the Hotel Wellington. At this noon meeting, N. Y. A. youths who have been under the direction of Stephen Grant, of the Albany Y. M. C. A., will entertain by singing, dancing and orchestra music.

A Bear is Offered.
This morning, May 28 (AP)—Patrol-man Louis Lamm offered a rapidly growing black bear cub to the first owner. He said it requires three quarts of milk a day and he can't afford to feed "that creature bear," sent him to a brother in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Two WPA Workers Shot.

THREE INJURED AS FIRE DESTROYS PLANE

The pilot, co-pilot and a passenger escaped with burns when this tri-motored plane burst into flames as it took off from the Chicago municipal airport. They leaped from the ship as the pilot, Ed Coates, brought it to a landing despite painful burns. (Associated Press Photo)

Turner On Flight

Los Angeles, May 28 (AP).—Col. Roscoe Turner took off at 4:03 a. m. (7:03 eastern standard time) today from Eastern Air Terminal on a 2,690-mile speed flight to Providence, R. I. in his 1,000-horsepower mono-colored craft. Turner said his only aim was to establish a record between Los Angeles and the Rhode Island capital and he was not gunning for Howard Hughes' west-coast mark, which supplanted his own this year. He flew in defiance of unfavorable weather reports in order to take part in dedication ceremonies of a new municipal airport at Providence.

Healthy Family Specifications.

Chicago, May 28 (AP).—The maximum specifications for a healthy family were drawn today in the American Journal of Diseases of Children—young parents with no more than four children. Babies are sure of healthy, sound bodies when there are four or less of them and the youngest is born before the mother is 30 years old "and as close to 25 as possible." Dr. Douglas P. Murphy of the University of Pennsylvania Medical School asserted. The number of deformed children increases with the mother's age, he said.

Married Hotel Walter.

Athens, May 28 (AP).—Princess Aza, sister of King Ghazi of Iran, and a young hotel waiter named Anastase Charalambis were married secretly here Tuesday, it was learned today.

Invite Mrs. Roosevelt To Concert Here

The Syracuse WPA Symphony Orchestra, Andre Polah, conductor, which will make its initial performance in Kingston June 3, has given a series of 10 concerts in Syracuse this season with an average attendance of over 3,000 at each concert. The musicians are compelled under Federal regulations to practice four hours a day—six days a week—and this is one reason why Mr. Polah has been able to accomplish so much.

The orchestra has a 25 per cent non-relief quota, which made it possible to get the accomplished musicians to round out a successful symphony.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the President, was extended a personal invitation to attend the concert in Kingston at her meeting today in Syracuse with Mr. Polah.

After the meeting the club presented two short plays "New Knights For Old" and "The Story of Our Castle" to an audience of 20. A beautiful castle of clay with knights in clanking armor was on exhibition. The exhibit was made by the children as a study project. The costumes were very beautiful and the plays which were made up mostly by the members were well presented. There being no monsters or dragons to kill in this modern age had habits were slain by the good habits instead. After the entertainment ice cream and other refreshments supplied by the generous teacher were enjoyed by all.

A group of the members of the West Shokan Ladies Aid met at the church Monday evening and finished one quilt and put the last one on the frames for Wednesday's quilting. Seven Persons Die In Chicago Crash

Chicago, May 28 (AP)—Seven persons were reported killed today when a Chicago bound passenger train demolished an automobile at a crossing in suburban Calumet city. The dead were reported to be two children, four women and a man.

The bodies of two of the victims, a woman about 45 years old and a girl, about 3, were taken to an undertaking establishment in Calumet City. Early police reports said that the bodies of the other victims were so badly mangled that it was difficult to determine how many persons had been in the automobile.

June Trial Term Of County Court

County Judge Frederick G. Traver will convene the June trial term of county court Monday, June 1, at 2 o'clock, and after organizing and swearing the jurors will take an adjournment until the following Monday, June 8, when the term will be continued with the taking up of criminal matters. Civil trial work will not be taken up until the week of June 15 unless the criminal work breaks and there is an opportunity prior to that time.

The reason for the adjournment of the term at this time is because Mayor Heiselman has requested the use of the court room as a meeting place for the Mayors Conference convention which will be held June 3, 4 and 5. There will be several sessions going on at the same time and various meeting places will be required. County Judge Traver has granted the request for use of the court room by the city's guests and has consequently adjourned his court for a week.

Criminal matters will be taken up the week of June 8 and the civil cases of which there are 51 on the June calendar will be disposed of after the criminal matters have been disposed of.

French Envoy Adds to Reports of Borrowing

Paris, May 28 (AP)—The idea that France hopes to borrow more money in the United States was augmented today by the French press and a speech by Andre Lefevre de La Boulaye, France's ambassador to Washington.

The ambassador's address at the American Club financial authorities described as "a flirtation" in the hope of borrowing money. Newspapers said the recently signed Franco-American commercial treaty might be a prelude to a "friendly" loan of about $50,000,000.

In financial headquarters there was talk that Leon Blum, the probably next premier, would seek a long-term 3 per cent loan of $1,000,000.

Financial experts warned, however, it was "foolish" to believe the problem of France's unpaid war debts to the United States, the chief obstacle to a loan, could be solved within "several weeks."

P. W. B. Rebuilding Several Streets Here

The Board of Public Works has a force of men at work topdressing Pearl street, between Clinton avenue and Wall street, John street, between Wall and Fair streets, and Fair street, between John and North Front streets. It is reported that there is an excellent foundation in these streets and in order to rebuild them it is only necessary to topdress them. These streets are being gotten ready as they will be greatly used next week during the State Mayors' Conference here.

Reservations for State Mayors Are Filling the Hotels

Mayor C. J. Heiselman stated this morning that so many reservations had been received for mayors and city officials of the state planning to attend the annual State Mayors' Conference which convenes here next Wednesday that all of the hotels uptown have been filled and the reservation committee has commenced the work of making reservations in the hotels in the central section of the city. The reservation committee, if the reservations continue to flow in may have to seek additional rooms to house the guests in the rooming houses uptown.

Presents "Texas Jack" To Forsyth Park Zoo

"Texas Jack" is a Horned Toad. "Ferocious Looking As Lion And As Harmless As a Kitten"—The Toad Arrived By Mail At The City Hall Wednesday Afternoon.

Mayor Heiselman when the Wednesday afternoon mail was delivered at his office in the city hall found among the mail a large cardboard box which bore the inscription "I am a Horned Toad, Ferocious looking as Lion, and Harmless as a Kitten." The toad had been shipped to the mayor by the Texas Centennial Exposition from Dallas, Texas.

The mayor turned the box over to his secretary, Ward Tongue, who opened it. Inside the box packed in excelsior was the toad. At first glance the toad appeared to be dead. The letter accompanying the gift stated that the toad lived on ants and flies.

Dr. Fred H. Voss, who had just returned from a western trip, and called at the mayor's office, was present when the box was opened. He said that the toad was a common sight in the west, and could be easily tamed.

Mayor Heiselman took one look at the horned toad and told Mr. Tongue he had better take it out on the lawn and dump it out of the box and see what happened. Mr. Tongue complied with the request. The toad as he dropped out of the box did not appear to have any interest in his surroundings, but the fresh air evidently revived him for he suddenly began to run, not hop across the lawn, and Mr. Tongue had to set a fast pace to overtake the toad.

Dr. Voss explained that the toad was more used to running than hopping as it had to move fast to escape the hawks of Texas which considered the toad a dainty addition to the daily menu.

The Mayor after a brief consideration of the matter decided that it would probably be better to turn the toad over to the Forsyth Park zoo than take it home with him. Superintendent Conway was called into the conference and stated he would deliver "Texas Jack" to the zoo that afternoon. There he may now be seen by the boys and girls of Kingston who may never have seen a horned toad and they can bring him such dainties as ants and flies to eat.

Presbyterian Scores New Deal Dangers

Syracuse, N. Y., May 28 (AP)—C. N. Wooncott of New York city, treasurer of the Presbyterian Church Board of National Missions, told the 148th general assembly today that "the New Deal dangers to the earnings of our invested funds have begun to reflect themselves in reduced income."

Our average income is 3.91 per cent against 4.3 per cent last year, or nearly two-fifths of one per cent less than last year," he reported.

"With $26,000,000 (more than 55 per cent of total assets) invested in the securities of American industries and with the wages of capital being reduced just as rapidly as the administration can enact regulatory and tax laws to effect this changed economy, you can expect, in my opinion, further adjustments of income downward from these sources."

The treasurer's report showed that 60 per cent of the board's $2,500,000 annual income comes from gifts of churches, the women's organizations and members, while the balance is derived from business enterprises, real estate, rentals and numerous investments.

THREE PONCKHOCKIE BOYS ARE REPORTED MISSING

Last night the police department was notified that Joseph Coumbes, 15, and his brother, James, 13, of 11 Gill street, and Albert Lewis, 10, of 29 Sycamore street, were missing from home. The two Coumbes boys the police say ran away from their home recently and were picked up in Albany. The police department sent out teletype messages reporting the boys missing.

CRANKCASE SERVICE—REAR OF STORE

Presenting the thoughts of a puppy, written by Muriel Jarvis:

The Injustice of It All

I wish, now, I'd chewed those new rubbers up
And cracked down again on that sissy pup!
I could have chased their old stuck-up cat,
And done a lot worse things than that!

You'd think they'd consider how good I've been,
But no—I've been spanked for an awful sin (It's something I'd rather not talk about),
Because THEY forgot to put me out!

"Do you call that washing your ears, Junior?" a mother said to her young hopeful Wednesday. "If you think you're on the soil conservation commission why, all right, but a boy's ear is a poor place to start storing the surplus."

Polly—When Freddie and Elsie came back from their bridal trip he still had $2.50 in his pocket.
Jessie—The stingy thing!

Another indication of the advancement of true art: Discarding the phonograph and its record and then turning on the radio to listen to a recorded musical program.

Friend—Is there any state left where they make the punishment fit the crime?

Man—Sure, the marriage state. I make my wife eat her own biscuits.

A bachelor is a man who never makes the same mistake once.

Manager—But I employ only married men.

Applicant—Why?

Manager—Because they are not in such a hurry to leave the office in the evening.

The best definition of a Communist we have yet seen runs about like this: He is a man who thinks everything is the matter with the country and that nothing's wrong with him.

Mr. Snapp—My motto is: What is worth doing is worth doing well.
Mrs. Snapp—I notice that when you make a fool of yourself.

The best advice to the graduates this year is that they preserve the vigorous mental habits which they have acquired in attacking their school problems, that they turn the spotlight of inquiry and research upon the theories and beliefs which will be thrust at them in the outside world.

When a youngster walks out of college with his diploma he feels just like the fellow who walks up to bat with two out and the bases full.

Friend—Do you think it wise to use signals when you play bridge?

Man—Yes, if it's my wife who's giving them.

War never determines who is right, but only who is left.

Minister—I am glad to see that you come so regularly to our evening services, Mrs. McSwish.

Mrs. McSwish—Yes. You see, my husband hates to have me go out in the evening, and so I come just to spite him.

This is the year in which the college graduate is hoping against hope that he will find a job instead of being forced to wait for the opportunity to accept a position.

After all, the best state to live in is the state of solvency.

Educated Waitresses Preferred

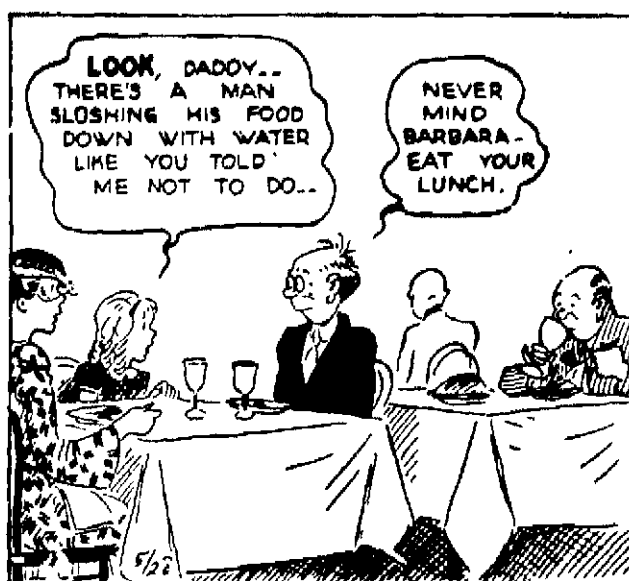

Charlotte, S. C. (AP)—Restaurant owners here list a college education as something to be considered in employing waitresses. Quiet manners and good looks are other characteristics of importance, they say.

BLACK LEGION DEFENDANTS FINGERPRINTED

peal to United States Attorney General Cummings for a federal investigation.

In Jackson, Mich., Justice of the Peace Ernest J. Rogers resumed his "John Doe" inquiry into at least two floggings, one of them followed by the death of the victim; of an incendiary fire, and of reports that many guards in the state prison of southern Michigan were members of the order.

Prosecutor Owen Dudley said a dozen witnesses would be called. Four men are in custody, under $10,000 bond, in connection with the flogging of Harley Smith, Norvell, Mich., who said he was given six lashes for failure to attend meetings of the Black Legion.

At Detroit, the court examination of 12 Black Legion members accused of the slaying of Charles Poole, that brought the organization into the limelight, was in adjournment until next Tuesday.

Heinrich Pickert, Detroit police commissioner, summoned five police officers to headquarters today for questioning on reports that "60 or 70" officers were initiated into the night rider society.

Pickert has issued an order to weed out any Black Legion members from the department, and has placed Chief of Detectives Henry W. Piet in charge of the investigation.

Defied Hooded Order.
Jackson, Mich., May 28 (AP)—Charles Standish, a suspended prison guard, who said he was forced to join the Black Legion, disclosed today how a minister, the Rev. Ralph C. Montague, 45, of River Junction, Mich., defied the guns and death threats of the terrorists and refused to join.

Standish said he was invited to a "stag party" at a grove where they found 50 men, some of them hooded and robed.

Men in masks and hoods formed a ring around them, leveled pistols and rifles. Standish said a leader began the ritual.

"I was so surprised and scared I just said yes to everything," related Standish.

"One of the men in the line didn't say yes, though. He said: 'No, certainly not.'"

"It was the minister. He spoke right out and it got very quiet. In a minute all the guns seemed to be right around the minister.

"The minister said, 'Just a moment, I don't believe in belonging to any organization of the sort this apparently is.'"

Many of the men shouted "string him up," Standish said, but Mr. Montague replied:

"Gentlemen, I've taught the Gospel of God and if you are going to kill me, I'm prepared to die."

The minister was released after leaders at the meeting conferred.

Montague, pastor of the Baptist Church at River Junction, confirmed the story and said he has offered to testify before the grand jury investigating Black Legion activities in Jackson.

MARKET FOR FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

New York, May 28 (AP)—(State Department of Agriculture and Markets)

—The season's first shipment of strawberries from Germantown, N. Y., arrived on the local market today.

The strawberries were of the premier variety, good size, color and quality and jobbed out at 18 cents per quart basket. This market was slightly stronger, especially on attractive quality large size fruit. Supplies were moderate and were drawn from the gardens of New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Virginia.

The demand was fairly active on good quality, large size berries, but slow for ordinary and small. Various varieties in quart baskets from the above states wholesaled mainly at 10c-14c, fine quality large size berries ranged from 15c-20c and ordinary and small 3c-9c.

The tone of the potato market was steady. The demand was fair for old crop and good for new. Old crop New York upstate 100 lb. sacks round white U. S. No. 1, of fair quality $2.50-$2.75, Maine 100 lb. sacks Green Mountain U. S. No. 1, $3.00-$3.15.

Asparagus prices averaged higher. Supplies and demand were moderate. Green asparagus $1.75-$2.50 per dozen bunches for the colossal and extra fancy grade and $1.25-$1.75 for the fancy. White asparagus $1.75-$2.25 for the colossal grade and $1.25-$1.50 for the fancy.

Supplies of apples from New York state were light. The market was about steady on fruit of good quality and condition. Baldwin apples, N. Y. U. S. grade No. 1, 2 1/2 inch and upward 90c-$1.35 per bushel basket or open box, McIntosh No. 1, 2 1/2 inch $1.50-$1.75, occasionally as high as $2.00 and poorer $1.00-$1.25. Northern Spy No. 1, 2 1/2 inch minimum and upward $1.50-$1.75 and miscellaneous varieties No. 1, 2 1/2 inch minimum 75c-$1.25.

Big Boston lettuce supplies from New Jersey and Long Island were moderate to fairly liberal. Grades of 2 dozen heads, New Jersey, 35c-65c, occasionally as high as 75c and from Long Island 75c-$1.00 for the best.

Green pea values continued to range widely due to the great variation in the quality and condition of offerings. New Jersey green peas $1.00-$1.37 1/2, occasionally as high as $1.50 per bushel basket.

Four to Die Tonight
In Sing Sing Chair

Ossining, N. Y., May 28 (AP)—The last wish of Floyd Rosenberg today was that he be given a glass of milk before he is electrocuted tonight in Sing Sing's third quadruple execution in 16 years.

The three others scheduled to die in the chair after 11 p. m. are Vincent De Martino, 27, Charles Kropowicz, 22, and Frank Russo, 23, all of Brooklyn. They were convicted of killing Thomas Caughan, a patron, during a Brooklyn restaurant hold up June 10, 1934.

Each of the condemned men ordered hearty last meals of steak, or fowl, but Rosenberg made a special request for a last glass of milk which was granted by Warden Lewis E. Lawes.

The heads of the men were shaved for the electrodes this morning and they were visited by their spiritual advisers. They asked anxiously for word from Albany where their applications for executive clemency have been filed.

The executions tonight will leave 23 inmates in the death house including two women, Mrs. Mary Creighton, 34, convicted of the poison slaying of Mrs. Ada Applegate and Mrs. Dorothy Sherwood convicted of drowning her two-year-old son near Newburgh last summer.

The court of appeals today set the week of July 13 for the execution of Everett R. Applegate and Mrs. Frances Creighton, convicted jointly of the poison murder of Applegate's Ada.

Applegate, former Nassau county American Legion officer, and Mrs. Creighton were convicted in connection with Mrs. Applegate's death last September, 27, in a Baldwin, Long Island, home occupied by both families.

At the trial the state accused the pair of conspiring to poison Mrs. Applegate so that Applegate would be free to marry Mrs. Creighton's daughter, Ruth, 16.

The highest state court also set the week of July 6 for the execution of Tom Collins, convicted of the fatal shooting of Charles J. Theuder in a Queens county tavern on June 22, 1935.

The court's action leaves a plea to Governor Lehman for executive clemency as the only way for the three to escape the death sentence.

Lunches for Travel

Washington, May 28 (AP)—Fred Orin, chief of the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries, today suggested 17 year locusts as trout bait. Orin said he took a handful of locusts to the aquarium and tried one out on a trout. "The fish jumped out of the water to snap the locust out of my hand," he said. "I knew I had something trout liked."

Man Struck in Hospital

Boston, May 28 (AP)—The injured 34-year-old father will have to stay at St. Elizabeth's Hospital until next week as a result of a bad leg injury he sustained when the 10-year-old son of the family, who was with him two days ago, fell from a tree. The father said no surgery would be necessary.

Star Vice Witness
Suddenly Ill Today

New York, May 28 (AP)—A woman, identified by special racket prosecutor Thomas E. Dewey as "the state's star witness" against Charles (Lucky) Luciano and nine others, became ill suddenly today just before she was to testify at the trial of the ten on charges of compulsory prostitution.

Dewey did not disclose the woman's name, but he told Supreme Court Justice Philip J. McCook she would probably be on the stand a long time. The statement was taken as confirmation of reports Dewey would shortly close his case, topping it with the testimony of a woman who would offer damaging evidence against the alleged leaders of New York's $12,000,000 vice syndicate.

Records of prostitute cases heard in women's court during 1935 were read into the record of the trial today over the objections of defense counsel, who contended the records were prejudicial without the minutes of each case.

Dewey explained the records were produced solely to substantiate the testimony of witnesses that the vice combination fulfilled its guarantee that no prostitute paying a bond to the syndicate would ever go to jail.

A lawyer accused by Dewey of attempting to wreck his case was in jail today charged with subornation of perjury.

The lawyer, Samuel Kornbluth, was arrested when four persons told Prosecutor Dewey that Kornbluth had attempted to influence their testimony.

The four informants were arrested but released on bail as material witnesses. Three were listed by Prosecutor Dewey as Lillian Berner, who put up a $10,000 bond guaranteeing her testimony in a case of attempted bribery; Loui Adamson, alias Felix, held in $25,000 bond; and Hymie Tolone, whose bond was set at $10,000.

Herringbone Parking
Not Found Feasible

Last evening at 11 o'clock the plan of having herringbone parking on Wall street, between John and North Front streets, was given a trial before Mayor Heiselman, Chief of Police Wood, Fire Chief Murphy, Corporation Counsel Cashin, and the traffic control committee and several other members of the Common Council.

Herringbone parking means in brief the parking of a car with the rear end to the curb and the front end projecting out into the street. By parking cars at this angle it was thought that between 50 and 60 more cars could be parked in that section of Wall street.

The tests made, however, showed that the idea was not feasible as the street is too narrow, and the time it took to back a car with the rear end into the curb tied up traffic.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL
BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are one of Nature's chief ways of taking acids and wastes out of the blood. A healthy person should pass about 2 pints a day and so get rid of more than 2 pounds of waste matter.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, waste stays in the body and may become poisonous. It may start nagging backaches, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't let it lay you up.

Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills—used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get Doan's Pills.

WRANGLE ISLAND TO GET MODERN TOUCH

One of Its Inhabitants Has Ordered a Motorcycle.

Washington.—Arctic foxes and polar bears on Zemlya Vrangelya (Wrangle Island) may soon pick up their ears at an unfamiliar roar as this lonely island, 800 miles north of the Arctic circle, acquires its first motor vehicle. One of the inhabitants is reported to have ordered a motorcycle.

"Just why any nation should want Wrangle Island is not apparent at one's first approach," says the National Geographic society. "Nevertheless the United States, Great Britain and Russia have laid claim to it at various times."

"It lies in the Arctic ocean about 100 miles off the coast of northeastern Siberia and in winter is usually surrounded by glistering white and green sea ice. To reach the island was almost an impossibility until a few years ago. Now its few visitors can push northward in summer across Long Strait in an ice-breaker. Sometimes the ship follows cautiously narrow channels of water while on all sides stretch milling ice masses that boom, grind, and crack ominously.

Rescue the Stranded.
"In January 1914 the Stefansson expedition ship, the Karluk, was crushed like an eggshell by the opening and closing of the ice, and sank about 65 miles from Wrangle Island. The survivors lived on the island until rescued in September. In 1933 the Soviet ship, Cheliuskin, set out with supplies and a group of scientists to replace the handful of men and women then living on the island. Ninety miles off Cape Vankarem, Siberia, a wall of ice 30 feet high crashed against the ship, split, and sank it. The 104 passengers stranded on the ice were all rescued within two months by airplanes from the Siberian mainland.

"Wrangle Island is approximately 60 miles long and 17 miles wide. Approached in winter, it would hardly be reassuring, appearing then as a bleak, white ice floe. But if one were snug in furs and speeding behind a lively dog team, he might find an interesting drama unfolded on the snow-covered island. Shapes, thought to be moving snow drifts, would turn out to be polar bears. Snowy owls would fly silently. And one might see tiny white lemmings, tunneling in the snow, pounced on by Arctic foxes with fluffy white fur.

"Should trans-polar air routes ever become commercially important, Wrangle Island, with its position, and its natural plateau, might be a strategic air base for flights connecting northern America with northern Asia, and northern Europe. Proposed flights from the mouth of the Mackenzie river, Canada, to the mouths of the Kolyma and Lena rivers which penetrate Siberia, could both be broken advantageously by stop-overs at Wrangle.

Grabbed for Britain.
"In 1921, Stefansson, believing the island would be a valuable air link between Great Britain and the Far East, sent four men and an Eskimo seamstress to hold it for Great Britain. After three men disappeared, and the fourth died, the woman was left alone on the island to be terrified by its polar bears. By trapping foxes and shooting seals and birds, she managed to survive until rescued in 1924. Her rescuers left 13 Eskimos and an American on the island. A Soviet expedition removed these and in 1926 replaced them with a colony of six Russians and about 50 Chukchi settlers.

"The hardships of Wrangle Island are no novelty to the Chukchi inhabitants whose relatives thrive on the Arctic shore of the Siberian mainland only 100 miles farther south. Making their living by hunting walrus and seals, or farther inland, by breeding reindeer, many Chukchi families are wealthy, and are occasionally visited by Soviet and American traders. This accounts for the finding in their skin-covered huts of things like phonographs and back copies of American magazines.

"According to one Arctic explorer, Wrangle Island is one of the most promising spots in the polar region for self-support. Although it lacks trees, driftwood washes up on its beaches, providing fuel and building material. Its minimum winter temperature is 20 to 40 degrees warmer than that experienced by many farmers near Yakutsk, Siberia. The island's hills are largely bare rock, but their bases and the low lands are covered with lichen, moss, and stunted vegetation that would supply grazing for herds of reindeer.

Effect of Real Love Is Revealed in Old Letter

"Dear Name: What you asked me about did I love Charlie, well, dear, it's this way. I'm afraid if I don't take him I'll be sorry, and if I do I'll regret it, because I can't live without him any more than I expect I'll be able to live with him. It's just so exciting being miserable until I'm happy, that if I ain't to love with him I might as well shut it out one way or another, and so we're going to get married if I don't change my mind, and if I do, the Lord have mercy on my soul, Name, because he's an awful swell, I've had a job. So that's how it is, dearie, and they tell me it's just perfectly natural, like the moon."

"I'll send you no invitation, and when you see me walking down the aisle with him, for the love of Mike, Name, don't grieve. This is your chance for you to act like you feel like."

Highland Boys Are Bosses for a Day

Highland, May 28.—Inaugurating what is hoped to be an annual event the boys of the high school conducted the business of the village Tuesday. Mr. May, manager of the Cameo theatre, in cooperation with A. Herbert Campbell, principal of the school, selected the boys from their standing in school. The highest office, supervisor, was given to John Lockhart, Jr., as he had been on the honor roll for six times this year.

He filled the office of John F. Wadlin; Others were: Welfare officer, John Sherin for Ledyard Hall; fire chief, Fred Vail for William H. Maynard; town clerk, George Lane, for L. S. Callahan; president of the First National Bank, Elwood Slicker, for Charles L. DuBois; principal of the school, John Sprague for A. Herbert Campbell; associate editor of the Highland Post, Richard Hayner, for Dorothy Weaver; office on the ferry, Robert Coutant; superintendent of highway, Carl Almqvist, for Max Gruner; manager of the theatre, Angelo Phillips for Mr. May.

In the afternoon a jury trial was held in the theatre attended by an audience made up largely of the men who had lost their offices for the day. George J. Muller, the druggist and well known fisherman, was caught catching bass out of season. The judges were: Edward Brooks, Fred Gruner, James Richards and the jury made up of Martin Feldt, Angelo Fiacelli, Robert Wilkie, David Traver, John Lancer, John Wilkie, Calvert Strongman, Thomas Scortino, Cornelius Loscalzo. Kenneth Relyea found the culprit guilty and fined him $5 or five days in jail, and the defendant preferred the latter. Mr. Muller was considerably surprised during the evening when as a joke Sergeant Lockhart and Trooper Baker called to take him to jail. Previous to the main trial a short trial was held to coach the boys in court procedure when Mr. Wadlin assisted them in the technicalities of a court trial.

Illustrated Talk By Air Traveler

W. L. Markham, air traveler and photographer of Jamestown, N. Y., entertained the members and guests in attendance at the weekly Rotary meeting in the Governor Clinton Wednesday noon with an illustrated talk entitled "American Wonderlands from the Air." As Mr. Markham explained a trip he made over a year ago from Newark to the west coast, natural color slides taken by the speaker during the air journey were flashed on an improvised screen and these remarkable camera shots added much to Mr. Markham's running commentary on his trip across the nation.

The talk and the pictures joined forces to give Rotary members and guests at the luncheon one of the most enjoyable bits of entertainment witnessed and heard in some time. Shots of cities, mountains, cloud formations, national parks, craters, rivers, in fact Photographer Markham chose his views with an evident diversity that brought added charm and interest to his picture journey. The scenes he snapped while flying over the Rocky Mountains were especially impressive and it so happened that he flew over the western states during the disastrous drought of last year and his photographs depicted the almost deadly dryness of the farm lands of Idaho, Nebraska and other western states.

At the conclusion of his illustrated talk, Mr. Markham stated that his next objective was Mexico and South America and it was his hope that he would soon be able to bring back a series of air pictures taken while flying over that territory. The speaker was brought to the club through Arthur Colligan, chairman of the entertainment committee of the local service club.

Conventions That Made History

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN WINS A PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATION WITH HIS SILVER TONGUE.

After stampeding a Democratic national convention with his oratory, Nebraska plains, stamped the nation in the first of a series of campaigns is pictured above losing his famed silver tongue at an 1896 rally.

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE

Washington (AP)—The ghosts of great convention figures of other years, led by the silver-tongued William Jennings Bryan, will march in many memories as the nation watches the making of new political history at Cleveland and Philadelphia.

Drama-packed conventions of both major parties have become almost commonplace but probably the No. 1 Thriller of all was a one-man performance—Bryan's capture of the Democratic presidential nomination at Chicago in 1896.

When the convention opened, young Bryan was given little or no consideration as a possible nominee. Representative Richard P. Bland of Missouri, farmer-leader of the silver forces, was rated the favorite candidate and Horace Boies of Iowa was figured a second choice.

A Bryan Stampede
But on the fateful afternoon of July 9 "the boy orator of the Platte" marched to the platform and stampeded the delegates with a torrent of eloquent attack upon the gold standard, the Republican protective tariff and Wall street.

Twenty thousand listeners sat spellbound as that classic, final period fell from his lips: "You shall not press down upon the brow of labor this crown of thorns; you shall not crucify mankind upon a cross of gold."

"There was an instant hush," said a press description of the scene. "Then a storm burst whose fury seemed to sweep everything before it. . . . Burly, black-bearded delegates wept."

The balloting began the next day, and on the fifth ballot Bryan received an overwhelming vote. At 36 the Great Commoner had become "the peerless leader of the plain people". By force of his eloquence alone he had won a presidential nomination.

Republicans Name McKinley
Under the guidance of sagacious Mark Hanna, placid William McKinley of Ohio won the 1896 Republican presidential nomination, and became Bryan's opponent.

Silver Republicans bolted the Republican convention and some of them supported Bryan's candidacy. Gold Democrats threatened to put a third ticket in the race, many of them abstained from voting in the election and some supported McKinley.

The voters of today may notice a familiar tone in the charges and counter-charges of 40 years ago. Senator "Pitchfork Ben" Tillman of South Carolina lambasted the industrial east and "money barons", conservative Democratic newspapers in New York called Tillman "a communist and an anarchist." New York labor leaders, backing Bryan, said it was "a fight of the rich against the poor."

It was the "bicycle age" in America, and a national organization of wheelmen asked the Democrats to put a good roads plank in their platform. Competing with the presidential race for popular attention in the big cities was the battle between the Baltimore Orioles and the New York Giants for the National League pennant.

TEXAS FISHERMEN BAG

75-POUND SEA TURTLE

Port Arthur, Tex. (AP)—Two Port Arthur fishermen, J. F. Britten and E. L. Folett, have bagged what fishermen usually just dream about—a 75-pound loggerhead sea turtle.

Fishing in the Gulf of Mexico recently, the pair was about to call it a day when something struck Britten's bamboo rod line. It looked like a shark, Britten admitted, but he held on. His companion finally whacked the turtle with a stick and they landed their prize.

Britten said he had seen the turtle several times in the last few years but had been afraid to tackle him because "he seemed too big."

It was the first turtle caught near here in 15 years.

CHICAGO TAX COLLECTOR

ADDS 24,000 TO LISTS

Chicago (AP)—Income taxes are being paid by 24,000 more persons than last year in the Chicago revenue district, reports Carter H. Harrison, collector of revenue.

Taxable incomes this year total 148,000, he says—a 19 per cent increase over the 1935 total of 124,000.

Harrison reported to Washington taxes amounting to $39,634,228 paid in at his office from January 1 until mid-March. That figure represents an increase of $8,840,148 or 29 per cent over the amount collected during the same period last year.

Barber Behind Bars

Dallas (AP)—Barber H. E. Barber for barbering under a borrowed barber's license has been hauled in the county's bastille. Barber's father, also a barber, died in 1934 and young Barber began barbering on his father's license. Barber inspectors barred the deception and bore the younger Barber to the bar of justice where he pleaded guilty. Unable to pay a fine of $25 and costs, the borrowing barber bargained to serve out the time at three bolivars a day.

Garbage Men Speed Up

Columbus, Ohio (AP)—Superintendent Harry J. Reynolds of the garbage collection department installed on the department's 15 trucks automatic service recorders which registered the number and duration of stops made. In the next seven days the department collected what used to be a nine-day job.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

Tailored suits make cool travel.
Liana Merwin

There is nothing quite so practical for travel or vacation wear as a cool, tailored suit, especially when accompanied by several crisp blouses for variety and neatness. These summertime suits come in many interesting shades such as London tan, natural, magenta, sun-tone, gull gray, green, white and the popular oxford gray.

Such smart suits of tropical fabric in a linen-like weave, are cool and wrinkle-resisting which makes them ideal for packing and able to withstand the all-around abuse that vacation times gives to clothes. The two piece single breasted suit sketched above is in oxford gray with a removable vestee of white pique which gives it a clean cut look. It is man tailored, with four patch pockets that have inverted pleats—and a sporty, half-belted yoke action back. The skirt is plainly tailored with a roomy kick pleat at each side seam for walking comfort.

With either a tailored gilet or fussy sheer blouse, suits such as these in single or double breasted models will make smart costumes for town wear, too.

SLIP COVER FOR YOUR SOFA

Slip covers make the whole room seem brand new!

It's a quick job, and fun, too. No more trouble to do a sofa than a chair, and it takes only a few more yards of cloth.

Summery flowered cretonne, linens, or chintz; stripes or plaids; plain colors such as wistaria, porcelain blue, old gold, rust—all these simply work magic in a fagged-out room.

Cut no patterns but drape the cloth right onto the sofa, seaming along the three panels of the back, as shown in sketch. Pin along the lines of the upholstery, leaving a tuck-in allowance of four inches between seat and inside back. Trim, allowing generous seams.

Easiest finish is to whip an ornamental cord along the seams on the right side after the seams are stitched. Or a covered cord stitched into the seam is very smart.

Of course there are little tricks to the plackets, deft ways of handling the fulness at corners and arm-ends. But it all goes like magic, with the right information.

You'll find it in our 40-page illustrated booklet, MAKING SLIP COVERS SUCCESSFULLY. Diagrams as clear as day take you right through the whole job, step-by-step. Many styles of chairs explained with diagrams. One chapter on upholstering a chair at home. A standby for the homemaker.

Send 15c for our booklet, MAKING SLIP COVERS SUCCESSFULLY, to Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Institute, 109 West 19th street, New York city, N. Y. Write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

Any man like yours can tell the difference between those ordinary dressings and real mayonnaise!"

YOU know, my dear, little things are so important to men. And the dressing you select may mean all the difference between your husband pushing aside the salads you know are so good for him.... and enjoying every mouthful!

That's why I urge you to be sure you use real mayonnaise—Hellmann's. It has a rich, creamy goodness and tempting flavor that you can never get in ordinary dressings. For Hellmann's, you see, is made of only the choicest ingredients... a full measure of choice salad oil, freshly-broken eggs, a specially selected vinegar, and imported spices. No starchy fillers! It's all mayonnaise. And it's double-whipped to a marvelous creamy smoothness!

"So, remember the advice of an old lady! Ask your grocer for Hellmann's Real Mayonnaise! It is so good... and yet costs but a trifle per salad!"

When the Founding Fathers drew up our Constitution, one of the fears for the future which impelled them was the construction of an autocratic government in America. That is why the rights of states were preserved and the delicate system of checks and balances set up. So long as the rights of states and the balance of government are preserved, then America, in spite of everything else, will have a reasonable degree of individual liberty and local self-government. But once these rights are taken away and the balance destroyed, we will be well on the way to a collection of Fascism. Call it what you please, whether our legislators are mindful of the danger or not.

Tennesseans have been finding $5 bills which have washed against trees and cornstalks along the French Broad River. Is it possible that this is some of the Federal overflow from Muscle Shoals?

REPUBLICAN Off-Guard

A SMILE BEFORE THE STORM

Senator Lester J. Dickinson has proved a tenacious fighter for Republican causes, is considered a possible dark horse presidential candidate, and is certain to be in the thick of political excitement in Cleveland.

Memorial Day Parade Events at Highland

Highland, May 28.—Memorial Day observances will open at 9:30 o'clock on Church street when the parade will be formed by the marshal, Clifton B. Carpenter, and the 156th Regt. Rifle and Drum Corps. The school children and floats representing the organizations of the village will be in line. From Church street the line goes to Main street, Vineyard avenue to the cemetery, where the services will open by singing "The Star-Spangled Banner," led by the school children. Addresses will be made by the local clergymen, the Rev. Devellio S. Haynes, of the Presbyterian Church; the Rev. S. H. Mac Cormack, of the Methodist Church; Father Rizzo, of St. Augustine's Church; and the Rev. Arthur McK. Ackerson, of Holy Trinity Church. Taps will be sounded by George P. Muller, Jr., and answered by Thomas Sasso, both members of the local drum corps.

The parade will countermarch down Vineyard avenue to Main street, to Church street, where they will be dismissed. Members of Lloyd Post, 193, American Legion, will then march to the flag pole in the Methodist Church yard, where services will be conducted. The Post will be led by Commander William H. Maynard.

Athletic events will occupy the afternoon, opening at 1:30 o'clock on the P. T. A. field at the high school. The boys' physical director, Willard T. Burke, will direct the dashes for senior and juniors in a 50 yard dash, 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, 480 yard dash, one-half mile dash, one mile dash.

In the evening at 8 o'clock there is to be a carnival and dance at St. Augustine's Church, and it is hoped the carnival and dance will be held in the church hall. The music for dancing is by a ten-piece orchestra, the Moonlight Serenaders, from Newburgh. Sergeant Lockhart is in charge of the dancing.

The committee on arrangements has been Henry Kelly, Walter Clark and Sergeant Lockhart. During the afternoon a baseball game is to be played between the Highland High School team and the Raymond Rindon school nine.

SOUTHERN ULSER CLUB MEETING HELD MAY 21

Highland, May 28.—Mrs. F. P. Luther, past president of the Federated Clubs of Kingston, read a paper on the subject of "The American home with Mrs. Homemaker and Mrs. Consumer occupying it" at the meeting of the Women's Club of Southern Ulster, Thursday evening when they met with Mrs. Harriet Ames at the Elms. With women wielding much power as homemaker and buyer, owner of much of the wealth through inheritance or earning power there was a need of education along many lines. Women are fighting for peace, for temperance, for child protection, for beauty, and she has the gift of leadership, tact, and she has vision. She needs intelligent buying to offset the clever salesmanship, to discriminate between the all wool and the flannel blankets, the all silk and the weighted, she needs to know what labels are misleading and what are genuine, and with the buying power the manufacturers should soon appreciate that labels and tags should give a truthful statement of their wares. Mrs. Luther was followed by Mrs. Gross, of New York, a teacher of economics, who distributed food for thought in how the distribution of food is to be made that there will be no starving, no hungry, when science has produced the knowledge to grow more than is necessary for humanity.

The corresponding secretary read an invitation from the Music Study Club for the recital on May 24. Mrs. James Callahan reported for the district conference of women's clubs held in Newburgh on May 19. This gave the highlights of the talks by Mrs. Almeron Smith, state president, and Miss Jaffrey. The club decided upon a tea at the home of the president, Mrs. A. Loren LePere, for June 17, when guests will be entertained from Kingston, Walden, New Paltz and Rosendale, members and friends. At the close of the meeting, coffee and cake were served, attending were: Mrs. F. P. Luther, Mrs. Gross, Mrs. A. L. LePere, Mrs. Alice DuMont, Mrs. O'Brien, Miss Hilda O'Brien, Miss Lucille O'Brien, Miss Sarahman, Mrs. Ella Werschell, Mrs. George Hildebrand, Mrs. John J. Gaffney, Mrs. Perry Holt, Mrs. R. Kohn, Mrs. Lynn Baker, Mrs. James Callahan, Mrs. Elmer Cole, Mrs. Susan Floss, Miss Eliza Raymond.

"Did you get the number of that car that knocked you down, Watson?" asked the bystander in Harper, turning up to the unfortunate woman. "No," she answered, "but the house that was driving it was a three-story town house with a garden and she had on a pearl necklace and she had on a diamond earring." — Wichita, Kans., Eagle.

CLINTONDALE

Clinton, May 28.—The regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Clintonville Methodist Church will be held on Friday afternoon, May 29, at the home of Mrs. Edwin Terwilliger.

Methodist Church will be held on June 6, when the reorganization of the organization will be held and election of officers will take place.

Mrs. Vida Sutton, who has been ill at her home in a serious condition following a streptococcus infection, is improving slowly. Her many friends hope for a speedy recovery. Mr. and Mrs. John Schoonmaker were Sunday guests of their son, John, Jr., who is a patient in the New York State Reconstruction Hospital at Haverstraw.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schoonmaker,

Mrs. Angelo Albano, Melvin Thorne, William Hefflin of Clintonville and Mrs. Anna Lake of Poughkeepsie were callers in Kingston on Sunday evening.

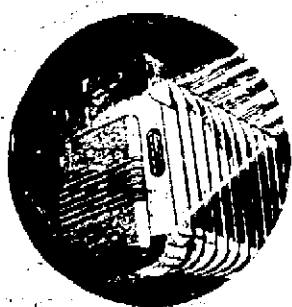

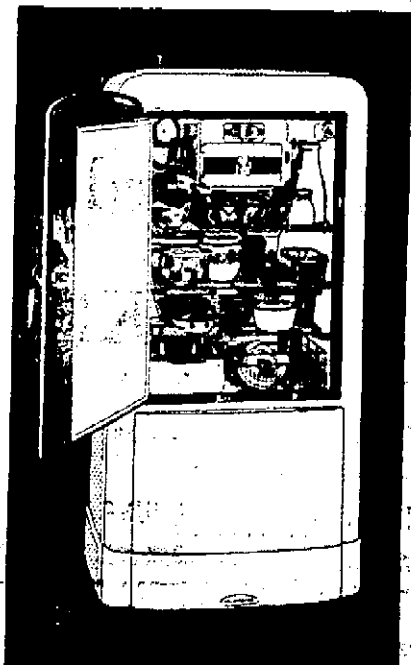

Mrs. Leslie Ackhart was a caller in Kingston one day last week.

Mrs. Rameel Wager and son, Harold, of Modena, were callers in Clintonville on Saturday evening.

Safe Cold now costs no more than Ordinary Refrigeration

Visible Cold

The controls of the 1936 Kelvinator keep food compartment temperatures ideal, regardless how hot it is in the kitchen. And you can see what the temperature is, because of a Built-In Thermometer which tells you that food is being kept sweet, safely, dependably cold.

And there's a lot of difference between safe cold—as provided by Kelvinator—and ordinary automatic refrigeration.

In Kelvinator you know it's safe, because in Kelvinator you have Visible Cold at all times. No guessing about cabinet temperature—you can see it, on Kelvinator's unique Built-In Thermometer. No chance for unexpected refrigeration failures. In Kelvinator you know it's economical. Because Kelvinator gives you a certified statement of low operating cost.

In Kelvinator you know you're protected—with Visible Protection. The manufacturer backs each Kelvinator with a Five-Year Protection Plan.

The new Kelvinator is worth a special trip to see. We believe you'll be interested at once; that you'll surely want to own one. And—at a cost of as little as $15 a day—why not? You are invited to inspect Kelvinator today.

head of the music department at the Normal School, had charge of the first part of the program and presented several groups of children to show the progress made since the last meeting. At The Theatres

Today

Broadway: "Love On a Bet." In the tradition of the picture "It Happened One Night," this HKO-Radio film tries desperately to catch the magic of the Gable-Colbert hitch-hike romance but fails. The picture is good entertainment however, cleverly handled and worked out into a smooth running, crazy story of a young man who makes a bet he can start out in New York with nothing but his underwear and end up in California with a suit of clothes, a hundred dollars and engaged to a beautiful girl. This assignment naturally causes considerable activity smattered with humor and the play makes the most of each situation. Those in the cast are Gene Raymond, Wendy Barrie, Helen Broderick, William Collier, Sr., Walter Johnson, Eddie Gribbon and Morgan Wallace.

Kingston: "O'Malley of the Mounted" and "F-Man." George O'Brien hits the great open spaces of the Canadian northwest in the hit feature at the Kingston, and before the climax and climax is reached at the picture's termination. Mr. O'Brien goes through the roughest and toughest series of adventures any audience could ask for and comes out unscathed despite the odds against him. Here's a real thriller done in the successful O'Brien manner and young and old should get considerable kick from this robust yarn of the men who keep the law alive in the north country. "F-Man" is the story of a small village soda dispenser who has yearnings to be a G-Man. Practical jokers in the department make him an F-Man instead when he fails to pass the tests but he comes through in a big way before the picture ends. Jack Haley, Grace Bradley, William Frawley, Onslow Stephens and Adrienne Marden are featured.

Orpheum: "Hitch Hike to Heaven" and "Heers of the Crowd." Double features continue at the Orpheum, the first with Henrietta Crossman in a sentimental story of the power of love while "Cheers of the Crowd" offers Russell Hopton in a modern story of today that occasionally has its moments of interest.

Tomorrow

Broadway: Same. Kingston: Same. Orpheum: "It Had to Happen" and "Trigger Tom." George Raft of the patent leather plus Rosalind Russell, Arline Judge, Leo Carillo and Alan Dinehart all combine resources in the first play at the Orpheum, a cleverly told story of an Italian immigrant boy who rises from a street shoveler to a political power in New York. A past love story runs through the entire film and Mr. Raft is more acceptable than usual in a sympathetic role. Good, lively entertainment done by a fine cast of players. "Trigger Tom" is the other attraction with Tom Tyler going through one hair raising episode after another.

"I would like to wake up some morning a hundred years from now," says Uncle Ezra, "just to see how high the national debt has got by that time."

Gentlemen:

Having read quite a bit in the paper in the last few days about the prospects of having park-o-meters in the uptown business section, I desire to express my opinion on this feature.

Personally I only get into Kingston about twice a month, but each time that I do over I purchase all my needs for the two week period in between visits and then do not need to go over again except in emergency or for dental visits or some business out of the usual routine. My average expenditures over one month in Kingston run between twenty-five and ninety dollars a month. This includes food, clothing, shoes, haircuts and so on for a family of five. However, if, in order to spend this $75.00 to $90.00 a month, I am to be penalized the sum of ten cents for each hour that I spend up town, you may rest assured that I shall turn around and spend my money in Highland which by the way is closer than Kingston, and such articles as I may not be able to purchase in Highland, I shall purchase by mail. What Kingston needs, is not parking meters, but rather a watch on the cars parking there, that belong, not to the customers, but rather to the store proprietors and their clerks. From such information as I can get, there are about six cars of the Personal Finance Corp., parked there on Wall street, there are cars from Sears Roebuck & Co., as well as cars from Grant's and others, too numerous to mention. I go to a barber shop on Main street just below Wall street and I most always see the same car parked in front of the barber shop each time that I go there and the car does not belong to either of the barbers.

I admit that often I park more than one hour, but that is necessary considering the amount spent there each time I go over and while I often go to the parking place in back of the court house or in back of Rose & Gorman's, one cannot be expected to carry heavy packages of groceries that distance all the time. Most always when I do go over, I am up town before 10 a. m. and even at that hour everything is jammed with cars which I am sure are not prospective customers' cars. So, if it is necessary for me to pay 10 cents an hour, to park on the streets of Kingston, then I most certainly shall take my business somewhere else.

Very truly yours,
W. J. ACHENBACH.

About 140 workers of the gear factory of the Citroen automobile plant also joined the strike movement.

Although the Communist Deputy

Cootes, who is secretary of the Metal Workers' Union, said the strikes were strictly a union affair, they were believed in political circles to be due partly to a feeling by strikers that they were more likely to obtain satisfaction with a Leftist government coming to power in June.

Unofficial sources estimated 3,500 metal workers were on strike in various plants.

TESTS made on all leading makes of electric refrigerators show that this year's models operate on $\frac{1}{3}$ less electric current than the models sold in 1932. This has been due in part to improvements in the cabinets, which today are thoroughly insulated against leakage of heat. It has also been due to scientific improvements in the design and construction of the refrigerating machines.

The purchase price of refrigerators has also declined in recent years, an average of about 25%. Both in the cost to buy and the cost to use, you get a bargain in today's electric refrigerators. Even if you could not afford this modern convenience a year or two ago, you can afford it today. Stop at your dealer's and learn about the low prices and liberal terms of payment.

Doodlerder Band At Police Ball Game

The Doodlerder Band, that brought fame to Kingston Post, American Legion, at the national convention in Miami, and at several state conventions, will be on hand for the mayors' convention here the first week in June.

Under direction of Charles Lukas, the band has been rehearsing for a parade on Wednesday, June 3, previous to the police ball game, one of the features of the convention. Sergeant James V. Simpson, coach, manager and director general of the Kingston Patrolmen's nine, today said he was proud to announce the Doodlerders would have a part in the ceremonies.

Prior to the cops' game, which will take place at the Kingston Fair Grounds, the Doodlerders will parade from the Rhinebeck ferry, downtown, to the uptown ball field, playing the same tunes that made a hit at the several Legion conventions.

"We want to be better than ever," said Charles Lukas, director, "to Sergeant Simpson; that's why we're rehearsing. And our instruments will be all polished. They'll be brighter than the chiefs' gold badge on a sunny day."

In the band are Ray Studd, Steve Baliszewski, Casimer Lukas, A. Abramowitz, Steve Cramer, Thomas and Joe Lukas and Charlie Lukas himself.

Besides parading, the Doodlerders will furnish music between the innings.

The Doodlerders are not the only ones rehearsing for June 3. The cops themselves have a workout almost every day for their big battle with Newburgh. Last year the police team broke even, Kingston winning at Newburgh and the downriver boys taking her bacon up here.

Sergeant Simpson has been telling his players that they must win at the Fair Grounds, to show the mayors from the various cities of New York state that law enforcers here can do their stuff on the diamond as well as their regular duty.

Soft-Ball Teams Tie In Bull Markets Feud

The softball teams from Kingston's two Bull Markets, the Smith avenue one and the former Merritt store on Washington avenue, met for the second time this week and now are tied. Next Tuesday evening at the Pan Am field on the Saugerties road the "rubber" game will be played.

This week's game ended 8-7 in favor of the Smith avenue Bulls, who won out in the seventh inning when "Deacon" Dixon belted a homer with two outs and two men on. Steve Voodick was the winning pitcher. Carl Bowser was his opponent.

Thomas Pitches Good Ball for Greensburg

Bill Thomas of Kingston, who is pitching for the Greensburg team of the Penn State League, leading the league at last reports, is credited with winning a game against Charlertown on May 18.

With Steinbeck pitching for Greensburg, Charlertown took a 5-1 lead in the first two innings. Thomas was sent in and won the game, having six strike-outs to his credit.

As of May 23 Greensburg led the league with six games won and one lost.

Swimming Classes At the Y. M. C. A.

The swimming season is here again and already there have been fatalities reported. The Y. M. C. A. has been active in promoting water safety for many years and as a result thousands of boys and men have learned to swim in the "Y" pool.

Learning to swim is not all there is to water safety, however. At the "Y" every effort is made to give every one a thorough knowledge of water safety in its broadest sense.

This year the "Y" will again feature a summer swimming program. Classes for instruction are being formed now. The opportunity for instruction will be available to men, women and children over 10 years of age. Individual instruction will be given by appointment.

During June and July special classes will be conducted for beginners. Each course will consist of six or 10 lessons. Any normal person who hasn't a great fear of the water should learn to swim in one course.

Clarence S. Schoonmaker, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., will have charge of the instruction. Mr. Schoonmaker uses a method of instruction which makes learning very easy. He will be glad to give information concerning the course at the Y. M. C. A. office.

Our National Tree

The national tree of the United States is the sequoia. The only place in the world in which it grows is California, and there only in certain restricted regions. It was selected as the national tree in a popular contest held in 1905 in which 3,000,000 women and children voted. Second choice in the contest was the elm and the third choice fell to the pine. The sequoia is not only the national tree, but the largest tree in the world.

The General Sherman tree in Sequoia National Park is the largest tree in the world. It is 275 feet high and 36 feet in diameter at the widest point. It is made in Sequoia National Park.

Kaslich A. C. Gets 8 Run Start and Takes Game Against Glasco 12-3

Pitchers' Duel to Feature Game Tonight

The fans are awaiting the outcome of the City League ball game this evening with great interest. The struggle will be between the Grunewalds, who are leading the league with three victories and no defeat, and the Hedricks. The latter have lost one game at the hands of the Kaslich A. C., and have played two tie games—with the Glasco All Stars and the Huron Indians.

The big interest, however, is in the pitching assignments. Jack Dodge is slated to oppose Joe Brown. Dodge has been on the mound for the Grunewalds in all their league games so far and has had but 16 hits charged against him in the three games. Joe Brown, heralded as the Hedricks' sensational find, came in as relief pitcher in the game between the Hedricks and the Kaslich A. C., and finished the game by striking out two men. In the tie game with Glasco, Joe struck out one and allowed no hits in 1 2-3 innings.

Besides parading, the Doodlerders will furnish music between the innings.

The Doodlerders are not the only ones rehearsing for June 3. The cops themselves have a workout almost every day for their big battle with Newburgh. Last year the police team broke even, Kingston winning at Newburgh and the downriver boys taking her bacon up here.

Sergeant Simpson has been telling his players that they must win at the Fair Grounds, to show the mayors from the various cities of New York state that law enforcers here can do their stuff on the diamond as well as their regular duty.

Soft-Ball Teams Tie In Bull Markets Feud

The softball teams from Kingston's two Bull Markets, the Smith avenue one and the former Merritt store on Washington avenue, met for the second time this week and now are tied. Next Tuesday evening at the Pan Am field on the Saugerties road the "rubber" game will be played.

This week's game ended 8-7 in favor of the Smith avenue Bulls, who won out in the seventh inning when "Deacon" Dixon belted a homer with two outs and two men on. Steve Voodick was the winning pitcher. Carl Bowser was his opponent.

Thomas Pitches Good Ball for Greensburg

Bill Thomas of Kingston, who is pitching for the Greensburg team of the Penn State League, leading the league at last reports, is credited with winning a game against Charlertown on May 18.

With Steinbeck pitching for Greensburg, Charlertown took a 5-1 lead in the first two innings. Thomas was sent in and won the game, having six strike-outs to his credit.

As of May 23 Greensburg led the league with six games won and one lost.

Poughkeepsie High Again Wins from KHS Defeating Them, 8-5

Kingston High School's baseball team fell before Poughkeepsie's hard-hitting attack for the second time this season when they were outscored 8-5 in a game played at Poughkeepsie Wednesday.

Carl Munson, the bespectacled right-hander of Poughkeepsie, again held Kingston in check, after getting off on a shaky start. Ed Schoonmaker went the full route for the locals, but fell victim of poor support in the seventh, when Poughkeepsie pushed across five runs on two hits and three errors to put them out in front for the first time.

Tony Reinhardt, Ad Beckhoven, Lou Glenn and Elmer Hopper pounded out two hits apiece to lead the Kingston batters. Doubles by Tommy Maines, Tony Reinhardt and Ad Beckhoven accounted for their longest hits. Carl Munson was the batting star of the day, getting three hits, one of which was a double.

Whalen got a double and Beal, Joseph and Kelleher had two safeties apiece.

Kingston jumped into the lead in the first inning, picking up two runs. Tony Reinhardt doubled off the left field fence and scored later with Tommy Maines on Elmer Hopper's single. Poughkeepsie emerged rather lucky in this inning, with Kingston getting three singles and a double and having three men left on bases. After the first inning both sides went scoreless until the fifth, when Kingston again bunched a double and three singles for two more runs. Poughkeepsie broke into the scoring column in their half of the fifth when four successive singles pushed across a run. They continued in the sixth, adding two more on a pair of singles and a double.

In the seventh Maines cracked a double and crossed the plate on Lou Glenn's single, which ended Kingston's scoring for the game.

The seventh inning proved to be the lucky one for Poughkeepsie, as they scored five times. Kingston played errorless ball up until this inning, but they failed to continue their good work, committing three miscues, which combined with two hits, a single and a double, won the ball game for Poughkeepsie.

The box score:

K. H. S. Tennis Team Defeats Raymond Riordon Wednesday

Coach Joe Block of the Maroon and White racqueters is happy today as the result of the 7-0 beating which his courtmen gave Raymond Riordon Wednesday.

Kingston made a clean sweep of the five singles matches and of the pair of doubles losing only two sets throughout. Captain Belcher opened with a smashing 6-0, 6-3 triumph over Burns. Svirsky found Burnside to be an easy mark, vanquishing him 6-3, 6-1. Raymond was no exception as Gordon ltrounced him 6-3, 6-2. Mundell formed little opposition for France who disposed of him in straight sets 6-2, 6-1. Burgher dropped the first set to Sigler 6-7 but came back strong in sets of 6-3, 6-0 to win his match. Kingston's doubles of Gordon and Svirsky pounded out a 6-4, 6-1 win over Burnside and Clemen. Belcher and Burgher teamed up to breeze through a 6-2, 1-6, 6-1 triumph over the combine of Raymond and Sigler.

The Highland Falls Independents, who are to play the Kingston Colonials on the Pan Am diamond, Saugerties road, at 3:15 Sunday, should prove stiff competition for the local boys. Both games will be played at Fairview Park, Stone Ridge, the Indians' home diamond. Games will start at 2:30 p. m., sharp.

Last year the Huron Indians made a fine record in their games played at Kristic Field, Rosendale. This season they got off to a bad start, but in their last game the luck seemed to turn and they took a 9-8 victory from the Berard A. C. of the Kingston City League. Manager Baumgarten will use his regular infield for the week-end games and for pitchers can call on Hornbeck, North, Shea or Barley.

Uhl will pitch for the Pioneers in the Sunday game.

Feud of Helens Still Going on Over Tennis

London, May 28 (AP).—The feud of the Helens is still on.

Although obviously certain that Helen Willis Moody was not going to play with the Americans in the Wightman cup matches and before she learned of her decision to forfeit her Wimbledon title, Helen Jacobs, four-times American champion, commented tartly today:

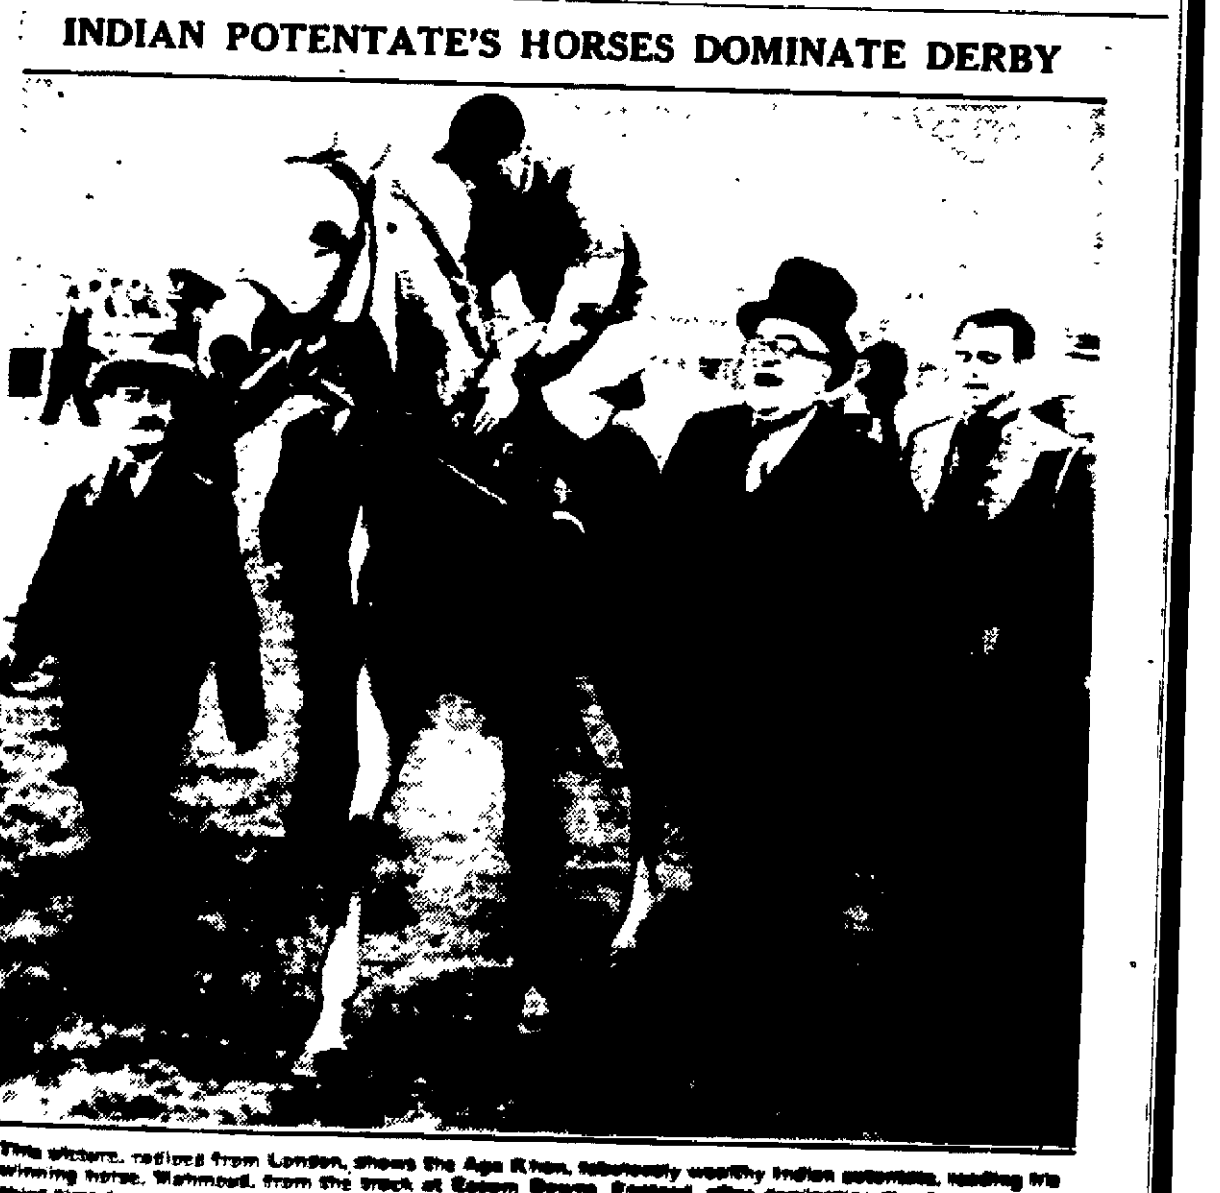

"Well, we've held the cup since 1932 without her, but she's coming over for the English championships, isn't she?"

When apprised of Mrs. Moody's decision to stay at home and concentrate on lifting Miss Jacob's title, Mrs. Moody's arch rival apparently was bitterly disappointed for it was an open secret that she came abroad several months ago to acoustom herself to English turf and shine up her guns for her biggest and probably final crack at her fellow Californian.

There is considerable curiosity as to whether those quintuplets have five different brains, or only one brain between them. And if they just keep mum, like a lot of sensible girls, nobody will ever know.

Harvard Favored to Defeat Cornell and Win Saturday's Meet

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

Philadelphia, May 28 (AP)—Minus the high pressure laid from the Pacific coast for the first time since 1920, the Intercollegiate A. A. A. track and field championships will celebrate their 60th anniversary on Franklin Field this week-end.

Qualifying trials will be held tomorrow and the finals Memorial Day for a meet that will bid farewell to the metric system.

In effect, the California "Big Three," by staying home, have given the team prize back to the east, after capturing 14 of the last 15 meets. Southern California, which registered the seventh Trojan triumph of the I. C. 4-A. games last year, has the best college track team in the country. Stanford and California also have a wealth of talent which will be heard from later during the decisive Olympic tests.

Among the eastern old guard, Harvard was favored to beat Cornell, with the rest of a field of 25 colleges scattered in the scoring, until it developed yesterday that Milton Green, the Crimson captain and a potential triple winner, had pulled a tendon in practice.

Green gained three first places in the hurdles and three jumps during Harvard's march to victory in this year's Big Seven meet at Cambridge. Without him, the Crimson will be hard-pressed to meet the challenge of Jack Monkey's Big Red team. Dopesters figure Yale, Dartmouth, Princeton, Manhattan, Holy Cross and Michigan State to collect a share of points but all lack the balanced strength of Harvard or Cornell.

His Leg Paralyzed, Carnera Loses Fight

New York, May 28 (AP)—Another of the bad breaks which have attended his fistic fortunes put old Primo Carnera, the lumbering Italian heavyweight, back among the fistic second raters today.

He last his 10 round return battle with LeRoy Ralston, the new Philadelphia sensation, at Ebbets Field last night when an attack of paralysis in his left leg forced him to leave the ring.

Haynes was ahead on points at the time and probably would have returned a winner, but "Da Preem," by holding the colored boy on even terms throughout most of the fight, partly atoned for the three round knockout Haynes scored in Philadelphia two months ago.

Disappointed and discouraged, Carnera would not discuss his ring future as his handlers worked on his leg in the dressing room after the fight. He was to leave soon for an exhibition tour of Europe, but after that he isn't sure. His friends say he may never return to America to fight.

Andy Niederreiter, Ebbets Field promoter, said today he hopes to match Haynes with Jack Sharkey of Boston in a June bout.

AT 36, LEFTY IS AIMING TO PROVE THAT HE IS AS GOOD AS EVER.

HE'S MOVING ALONG AT A PASTER PACE THAN HE WAS IN 1931 - HIS GREATEST YEAR.

HE HAS WON SEVEN GAMES FOR THE RED SOX WHILE LOSING ONE.

HE'S LEARNING.

HIS FIRE BALL IS A BIT SLOWER, BUT IT'S SMARTER.

LEFTY GROVE - HIS COMEBACK LAST YEAR WAS NO MORE 'FLASH IN THE PAN'.

Sport Slants

Lefty Grove at 36 may not be the pitcher he was in 1931 when he turned in 31 victories while dropping only four decisions. And then again, if his present pace is a fair yardstick, he may be better. Surely his present record of seven triumphs, four shut-outs included, against a lone defeat, would tend to indicate that he has found something to take the place of the blinding speed with which he used to hand out American League slugs.

I doubt if you could convince the present crop of sluggers who have faced Lefty that he is not the pitcher he was.

As the years pile on, especially after an athlete passes the 30-year mark, there is bound to be some loss of speed. Whether the additional experience gained is enough to compensate for the loss of strength and speed is an open question. In Lefty's case apparently it is.

Still Cuts Loose

When the old fireball was burning a path down the middle, Grove didn't give much thought to trying to outsmart his opponents. He didn't have to. And, too, for a strong-armed young fellow there is an extra thrill in throwing them past a batter. A wise old veteran once remarked that no hurler really learns the art of pitching until the old salary whip turns up sore. And there seems to be a lot of truth in that.

Don't get the idea that Grove is a decrepit old man with hardly enough speed to reach his catcher. He is anything but that. There have been occasions this spring when, finding himself in a tight spot, Lefty reared back and let fly with one of his old-time smoke balls. According to some of the batters who watched the pellet speed by he still can pour them in just about as fast as any other pitcher in the circuit. He wouldn't dare try throwing many of them in a game—Lefty knows that only too well—but it buoy up his confidence to know that there are still a few fast ones left in the old arm.

Grove will be a real miracle man if he reaches the 30-victory mark this season, or even approaches it. He's making his hay before the summer sun gets too hot and letting the other fellow do the worrying.

Lindstrom Leaves

In contrast to Lefty Grove, take the case of Freddie Lindstrom. Freddy is half a dozen years younger than Grove, has taken good care of himself and should have many useful baseball years left. And yet he has tossed up the sponge. He announced that he was through with baseball and walked out on the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Big league ball players don't as a rule do things that way. They hang on for dear life just as long as they can, at times when it means no end of effort and physical discomfort to keep going. The answer is that Lindy never cared to play ball as badly as all that.

It's no secret—and never has been—that Lindstrom always believed there was only one good job on a ball club... that of business manager. Of course he would like to have a fling at managing a big league team. But that would only be as a stepping stone to the business manager's desk.

He realized that his days as a regular were over and not caring to spend most of the time on the bench waiting for infrequent opportunities to play, he made up his mind to step out. Maybe it wasn't such an unwise decision, at that.

WURTS STREET MEN'S CLUB PLAYED NEWBURGH TEAM

Tuesday night the Men's Club of the Oak Street Baptist Church, Newburgh, were the guests of the Wurts Street Men's Club at a game of baseball.

The visitors won the first game, score 13-6. The Wurts Street Club won the second, 12-15. Owing to the lateness of the hour, the third game or "rubber," was called off. At the conclusion of the games strawberry shortcake and coffee were served and a social time enjoyed. The Wurts Street Club will be the guests of the Newburgh team Monday, June 8.

The Newburgh club won the championship of the Federation of Men's Clubs of the city of Newburgh and vicinity the past year.

keep rolling along. The victory yesterday, probably was dearer to Hubbell, personally, than to any man on the roster. Since last July he has been unable to beat the Dodgers, and throughout his career they have bested him nearly twice as often as he has turned the trick. Yesterday, facing the Brooklyn for the first time this year, he held their bats in check for all 12 innings, and produced two singles and a pair of timely sacrifices himself.

By the Associated Press

Carl Hubbell, Giants Had two singles and held the Dodgers in check as New York moved into a first-place National League tie with 514 victory over Brooklyn. Jimmy Wilson, Phillies — His pinch-double in the eighth drove in the winning runs in the Phils 5-2 conquest of the Boston Bees.

Tommy Bridges, Tigers — Scattered his Chicago hits while Detroit defeated White Sox 7-2.

Billy Sullivan and Oral Hildebrand, Indians — Former got five hits and Hildebrand pitched five-hit ball as Cleveland downed the Browns 12-2.

Bill Swift, Pirates — Held St. Louis to two runs in the Pirates' 11-2 triumph over the Cardinals.

Low Riggs, Reds — Tripled to lead the winning ninth-inning Cincinnati rally over the Chicago Cubs.

Red Rolfe, Yankees — Had triple, double and single and drove in winning run for New York in the 11th against Boston Red Sox.

EXPECT 150,000 TO SEE RACE AT INDIANAPOLIS

Indianapolis, May 28 (AP)—With only three hours of race left, a half dozen race drivers hastened today to get in under the wire for the 500-mile speedway marathon here Saturday while the vanguard of approximately 150,000 persons expected by speedway officials to view the grind poured into this city.

Only one position in the race remained technically open today, but the pilots who hoped to qualify this afternoon from 1 to 4 o'clock had the chance of eliminating the slowest previous qualifier. The 23 fastest speedsters will start at 10 a. m. (C. S. T.) Decoration Day.

Why are millions of cigars thrown away half smoked?

THE ANSWER: Too many cigars with a harsh, bitter, bitey taste . . . cigars that give you no real pleasure in smoking.

QUESTION: What causes all this rawness, harshness and bitey taste in cigars?

THE ANSWER: All cigar tobaccos—in the raw—contain certain bitter oils and harsh elements. When left in, they are bound to cause harshness and bitterness in the cigar.

QUESTION: Can these harsh, bitter elements be removed from the tobacco so that the cigar will be absolutely free from any harsh, bitter taste?

THE ANSWER: Yes, but not through the ordinary methods used in curing tobacco.

QUESTION: What does Bayuk do to remove them from the tobaccos used in PHILLIES?

THE ANSWER: Bayuk has a process that begins where ordinary curing methods end. It not only removes the harshness and bitterness but makes the tobacco mild and mellow and improves its taste.

QUESTION: Do any other cigar manufacturers use this same process?

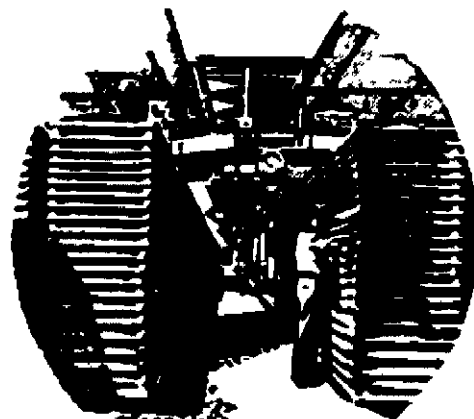

THE ANSWER: No. It was invented by Bayuk and is covered by patent protection.

QUESTION: Do smokers recognize the big difference this process makes in PHILLIES?

THE ANSWER: Yes. And as a result of their own self-prompted tests, they have made PHILLIES the largest-selling cigar in America.

BAYUK'S EXCLUSIVE PROCESS

This picture shows an important unit in the exclusive Bayuk Process for extracting the bitter oils and other harsh elements from the fine tobaccos used in PHILLIES. This Process enables you to enjoy the full flavor of fine tobacco without any bitter, bitey, harsh taste. Bayuk invites you to visit the factory and see this process in operation.

POLITICS at Random

THERE is at least a hint of prophecy in the fact that the relief issue plays so prominent a part in the final noisy prelude to the national political conventions.

The new tax bill may be disturbing in some industrial quarters. The farm issue may dominate the campaign in certain states. Various groups of citizens have shown special concern about the constitution. But when all is said and done, the universal issue is relief.

On the side of the Democrats, no other issue has produced such outspoken disagreement in the party ranks in congress. No other has resulted in such open public dispute among officials of the administration.

Among the Republicans, too, there are differences of view which it may be difficult to overcome completely. Some of the most influential, however, are talking of launching the Republican campaign on the keynote of a radically-revised relief program, letting all other issues take secondary place for the moment.

Relief is something every voter knows about. That is the kind of issue which inevitably pushes itself to the top.

Miners Forget Guffey Act
RECENTLY a visitor to a coal mining section brought back word to Washington that the miners and their families were not talking about the Guffey act, nor about wages and hours or homestead projects, but about relief.

What about all of these charges of politics in the relief set-up, they asked, and would some other method of handling the problem be better?

If anyone doubts that relief has become a burning local question everywhere, he will find the proof in the columns of the daily newspapers of virtually every state in the union.

The care with which the Republican national committee recently prepared its case relating to conditions in Missouri, and the thoughtful manner in which this case was handled by the administration, testify to the importance accorded by both sides to this far-reaching problem.

Agree Poor Must Eat
IT IS not that there is any dispute about the necessity for taking care of the needy. Even the ranking Republican leadership in congress supported the new relief appropriation. But they did so after protesting that the job could much better be done some other way.

The core of the controversy is, specifically, Harry L. Hopkins' administration of the vast relief funds entrusted to him.

The under-surface conflict between the Hopkins and the Ickes schools of thought has been much more severe than the general public realizes.

Secretary Ickes has not hesitated to carry to the highest quarters his insistence that a substantial portion of relief funds be put aside for permanent public works. Those who agree with him are numerous enough in congress so that compromise was unavoidable, but in the main Mr. Hopkins still dominates.

The exact form of the Republican campaign attack remains undetermined. Many politicians doubt whether the national convention can do more than charge waste and political manipulation, and hint at some new form of relief administration.

It will be for the Republican nominee to advance a tangible outline of what this proposed new approach should be. That may be, in fact, as matters stand, his first task in the campaign. Whatever he suggests is sure to provoke nation-wide dispute. And once the battle is on, can anyone think of any other issue which is likely to shoulder this one aside, so far as the ordinary voter is concerned?

Charges Damages to Farm by Installation Of an Illicit Still Charging that his premises known as Accord Poultry Farm in the town of Marlborough were seriously damaged by the installation of an illicit still, Benjamin Leibowitz, a New York city truck driver, is bringing an action in Supreme Court to recover $1,650 for damage to the buildings and also to recover for conversion of household furnishings which he alleges were removed from the property without his knowledge and consent. The action is brought against Katherine Rusch of Bergenfield, N. J., and Joan Delloy of Rosendale, N. Y., and John Delloy of Rosendale, N. Y., who are charged that while they were in possession of the premises under a contract to purchase, two men were given possession of the premises and did alter the buildings and erect a still. The furnishings in the house it is alleged were removed by Delloy shortly after a contract to purchase was entered into by Katherine Rusch, for whom Mr. Delloy acted as agent with power of attorney. Joseph Rosenzweig of New York appears for plaintiff and Arthur B. Ewig of Cashin & Ewig appears for the defendants.

Plaintiff alleges that he was the owner of a poultry farm of about four acres on which was located a five room house and several chicken coops, one a double deck building. The property was sold under a contract dated June 4, 1935, to Katherine Rusch and John Delloy. By the contract the property was sold to Katherine Rusch but John Delloy guaranteed the carrying out of the contract and acted as her agent with power of attorney. The contract called for closing title in January of 1936. Leibowitz claims that after the contract was signed by him agreeing to sell the farm and household furnishings, he went to the place and found the personal property had been removed. He asked, according to his story, Mr. Delloy to return it and Delloy said that he had entered into a contract to buy the furnishings and had a right to remove them and told the plaintiff he had taken them to his camp and would use them. Later Leibowitz said he went to the premises and found two men in one of the chicken coops operating a still. A third man named Getz was also there. When plaintiff saw a still on his property several months after the contract had been signed and prior to the closing of title, he left and phoned to Sergeant John Lockhart and the troopers, sheriff and federal men came to the scene and he met them and led them to his property where the still was in operation. When the men saw the officers arrive they tried to get away. One man jumped through a window but Trooper Reilly shot at him and he stopped. The two were arrested and charged with operation of an illicit still. The still was demolished by the federal men. It was of 500 gallon capacity.

Leibowitz said that when he turned the property over to Rusch and Delloy the coops were in good condition for poultry raising, but that later he found the buildings altered. The double deck coop had been damaged by the removal of the upper floor, alterations to the roof, erection of a chimney, removal of noose, meat, food bins and hoppers and by the breaking up of concrete floor and the digging of two pits or cellars on each end of the house where boilers and machinery was placed. A second coop had been damaged by the erection of pipe lines and large vats.

Plaintiff charges that only a portion of the household furnishings have been returned. He sued to recover $1,250 for damage to the buildings and $400 for the missing personal property.

The defendant Rusch never took title to the property and the contract for sale has since been voided. No action is brought to recover for breach of contract. Plaintiff does not deny that under the terms of the contract of sale the defendants had a right to enter on the premises on June 4 and take possession but does allege that the defendants were thereby responsible for the proper maintenance and care of the premises. It is under that contention that the plaintiff seeks to recover from Rusch and Delloy for the damage done by the alterations to the coops and the installation of the 500 gallon still, six storage vats and other equipment by the two men who were operating the still.

Denies Delloy Is Liable
The defendants admit that the property was sold under contract to Katherine Rusch through John Delloy but claim that this contract was transferred to one Getz and that the damage to the property, if any was done, was at the time Getz was in possession. It is admitted that furnishings were removed from the house but the defendant claims the furnishings were returned and are now in the house. Mr. Delloy defends the action on the theory that he was acting as Mrs. Rusch's agent and guaranteed payment under the terms of the contract in the event Mrs. Rusch failed to do so. The case not being one on contract but for damage to the property while it was in the possession of Getz to whom the Rusch contract was transferred, it is denied that Mr. Delloy is liable for any of the damage.

In his opening of the case Mr. Ewig stated that even though the moved the premises were removed they would be no claim for damages since the removal of the buildings would "enhance the property" rather than damage it. He contended that the buildings were old and of little value at best and that the plaintiff was now suing for $1,650 damage to a property which had originally been sold under contract for the total sum of $1,500. This price of $1,500 which plaintiff asked from Mrs. Rusch as the total price was for the four acre farm, house, buildings and household furnishings. The furnishings Mr. Ewig said had been taken away under the terms of the lease but has been restored "and now an action is being brought to recover $1,650 for damage to a property which originally sold for $1,500."

N. B. Gross, local real estate man, said Leibowitz had first asked $4,000 for the place but had reduced the price to $2,000 and later to $1,800. The property was sold for $1,500. Sam N. Mann, another local real estate man, testified he had appraised the farm to $2,000 and said it was not suitable for poultry as the land was low and damp.

The case will be continued.

Gen. Sherman Was Author of Numerous Epigrams

"War is hell," isn't the only blunt thing Sherman said. Lloyd Lewis reveals the Civil War general as an indefatigable epigram-maker in his biography, "Sherman: Fighting Prophet."

Some Shermanisms:
"Military fame is to be killed on the field of battle and have your name wrong in the newspapers."
"Of all lives on earth a banker's is the worst, and no wonder they are specially debarred all chances of heaven."

"Never give reasons for what you do until you must. Maybe after a while a better reason will pop into your head."
"Like in a race the end of a war is all that is remembered by the great world."
"The great theory of self-government began with Old Adam and has made precious little progress since."

"In human nature there is as much of the mule left that suppression of a newspaper only increases its circulation."

"I am not eligible for political life because I have not graduated from the penitentiary. If forced to choose between the penitentiary and the White House I would say the penitentiary, thank you."

"War correspondents print their limited and talented observations as the history of events they neither see nor comprehend."

2-Cent Rail Fares Go Into Effect Here On Monday, June 1

Fares to many points on railroads in New York state will be reduced on Monday, June 1, in conformity with an order of the Interstate Commerce Commission which established a 2-cent a mile rate for coaches. The present rate is 3 1/2 cents a mile on the West Shore railroad. The Pullman rates have also been reduced 50 per cent in effect on Monday.

An idea of the saving to passengers on railroad trains on the West Shore may be obtained from the fact that the present railroad fare from Kingston to New York city is $3.22, while the new rate fixes the fare at $1.80.

On the Catskill Mountain Branch the present fare from Kingston to Oneonta is $3.76 and the new rate fixes the fare at $2.10.

The present fare from Kingston to Albany is $1.32, and the new rate is $1.10.

The rate of 2-cents a mile restores the price of railroad tickets to about where it was many years ago.

they all agreed!

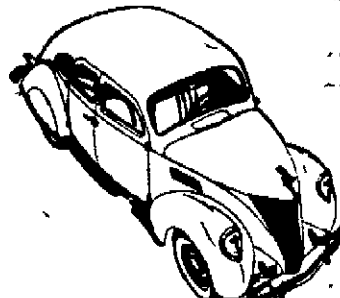

Dad said he'd always wanted a "12," but never expected to be able to afford one. But at this car's price—and with gas mileage up to 18 per gallon—he was sold as soon as he drove around the block!

Mother said that this was the way car seats ought to be—wide and deep and high enough to sit on. Also, said she, it was good to be able to see from the rear seat. She was sold almost as soon as Dad was.

The youngsters didn't say very much—because to look at Dad and Mother, it was clear that everything was working out just right anyway. We knew from their looks as they came in that they'd been sold for weeks!

You simply don't know how far the Lincoln-Zephyr has advanced the standards of medium price car value and pleasure until you drive one. Can't we arrange that for you today?
